

Poverty War Hit By GOP

Republicans In Call For An Overhaul

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans assailed the Johnson administration's antipoverty program today as "tragically weak, wasteful and ineffective." They called for a complete overhaul.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and House Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan told a joint news conference the GOP will make "a massive effort" in the House next week to restore "old fashioned horse sense" to the program.

Ford praised the Head Start program as worthwhile. On the other hand he said the Job Corps program has been "woefully misdirected and very badly administered."

He called for public support by letters and telegrams for the Republican effort to provide what he called "better job training—more job opportunities—Greatly improved educational programs—the full participation of private enterprise—greater state responsibility and direction."

Unless there is an overhaul, Ford said, the poverty program will be nothing more "than a terribly expensive exercise in marching up one hill and down another."

Dirksen said as the program has been administered "politics takes priority over the poor."

In advance of the leaders' news conference, a chief Republican critic of the antipoverty program said sentiment in the House on this year's bill is so divided that "as of now nothing can pass."

Rep. Albert H. Quie, R-Minn., told newsmen Thursday the administration's bill can't make it through unscathed when the House debates it next week. But then neither can the GOP substitute, he said.

Two Democratic senators predicted meanwhile in interviews that charges aired at a Senate probe of Houston racial disorders could seriously endanger the antipoverty legislation's chances in the House.

Sens. Fred Harris of Oklahoma and Edmund S. Muskie of Maine made their forecasts in the wake of charges by Mayor Louie Welch of Houston that local antipoverty agency workers helped foment racial unrest. His assertions came at a Senate subcommittee's hearings Thursday into U.S. riots.

A preview of the coming debate on the $2.06 billion bill was expected today in the House vote on a resolution to bring the bill to the floor.

No attempt to defeat the resolution was expected, but it was felt the brief debate preceding the vote would disclose the wide-ranging opposition to the bill that puts its fate next week in doubt.

Four Deaths, Then Suicide

SUMATRA, Mont. (AP)—Phillip Hauck apparently shot from ambush and killed his wife, 2½-year-old daughter, mother-in-law and father-in-law, then crawled under a truck and committed suicide, Sheriff Andrew C. Schulenberg says.

The five bodies were found strewn about the yard of the Hauck home, one of a handful of buildings making up this tiny community. Schulenberg said the shootings occurred Tuesday afternoon, but the bodies were not found until a neighbor happened upon them late Thursday.

He said the apparent multiple murder-suicide probably stemmed from a marital dispute. Mrs. Hauck recently filed for divorce, Schulenberg said.

The Nugents, who live in Miles City, Mont., had driven to the Hauck residence in two trucks, apparently to help Mrs. Hauck remove her belongings, he said.

Youth Collect For UNICEF

Youth from the Knob Noster Methodist, Presbyterian and Christian Churches Trick or Treated for UNICEF Oct. 29. A total of $150 was collected.

"Needy children and mothers in 120 countries will be grateful to them," the Rev. Lloyd McKerny, spokesman for the Knob Noster Trick or Treat for UNICEF program said. "The coins collected will provide badly needed supplies, medicine and services—in fact a better chance in life for boys and girls in Africa, Asia, Latin America and the Middle East.

Agreement Signed

The Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, Parkhurst Manufacturing Co., and the Sedalia Improvement Association, Inc., signed agreements Friday morning through which Parkhurst leased half of the Sedalia Industrial Park, including a building, to be used by the firm in its local operations. ## Parkhurst Leases Land To Enlarge Operations

The Parkhurst Manufacturing Co. signed a lease-purchase agreement with the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce Friday morning for a tract of land and a building in the Industrial Park to be used for rehabilitation of trailers.

The firm negotiated for the property with the Chamber of Commerce after the Chamber repurchased five acres of land in the park, including the building, from the Sedalia Improvement Association, Inc.

For 10 Years According to Gary Cooper, executive manager of the Chamber of Commerce, Parkhurst will have a 10-year lease, with option to purchase, on the property.

In a brief history of the land involved, Cooper said the Chamber of Commerce, in 1957, purchased the Industrial Park land for about $21,176. The Sedalia Improvement Association, formed about 10 years ago, purchased five acres of the Industrial Park site for $5,000 and then erected a building valued at $72,000 on the site.

The SIA obtained funds for the building project by the sale of stock and through donations. Cooper added that the SIA group had an outstanding indebtedness of $28,192, payable to the Chamber of Commerce, on the property when the agreement was signed Friday.

Since the Chamber bought the land and the building from the SIA, Cooper said, the Chamber's actual cash outlay at this time was only about $2,300. He added that there is about $37,625 outstanding in capital stock on the property, which

Teachers Set Goals

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Missouri State Federation of Teachers has resolved to seek higher pay and job security in future dealings with boards of education.

The federation concluded a one-day meeting in St. Louis Thursday. Delegates heard State Rep. Charles Sheehan, D-House Springs, describe a proposed teacher tenure law for Missouri as "a human dignity bill."

In addition to the teacher tenure resolution, the delegates passed a resolution calling for more state financial aid to elementary and secondary schools.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The executive secretary of the National Education Association has promised Missouri teachers support in any efforts to improve their conditions.

Dr. Sam M. Lambert of the NEA told delegates at the Missouri State Teachers convention in St. Louis Thursday that teacher strikes and walkouts are "just a prelude to really big trouble in years ahead."

Lambert said he is in favor of using the voting power of the NEA to oust legislators unfavorable to teachers and to promote constitutional changes in states which have limited educational programs.

'Human Shields' Used By Enemy

Soldiers Reinforce Loc Ninh

SAIGON (AP)—A battalion of U.S. infantrymen newly assigned to reinforce embattled Loc Ninh hurled back Viet Cong troops who, field officers said, dragged civilians to march ahead of them as human shields in darkness early today.

There was no immediate word as to how many noncombatants were involuntarily involved, but the officers said the Communist tactic—used before on many occasions in the Vietnam war—naturally restricted the Americans, a battalion of the 25th Infantry Division.

Nevertheless, the total number of the enemy reported killed in six days of fighting for the district headquarters climbed past 850.

Under cover of a mortar barrage, the Viet Cong made a ground assault on newly arrived U.S. infantry reinforcements shortly after midnight, and sporadic action was reported still going more than 12 hours later.

Reports from the fighting today said three Americans and 28 Communists were killed and 34 Americans wounded. The defenders of Loc Ninh, grown to about 5,000 with arrival of a battalion from the U.S. 25th Infantry Division, have reported a total of 11 Americans and 23 South Vietnamese killed and 66 Americans and 74 South Vietnamese wounded in the six-day battle.

U.S. officers said the Communist tactic of sending civilians ahead of the attack forces "naturally restricted" the defenders' answering fire in the first stages of fighting today around the town, 72 miles north of Saigon near the Cambodian border.

But the defenders hit the enemy with artillery, air strikes and twin-engine C47 planes armed with rapid-firing gatling guns.

In the air war against North Vietnam, poor weather persisted for the third day over the Hanoi-Haiphong area Thursday, limiting U.S. pilots mostly to the southern panhandle.

Romney Will End Suspense

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Gov. George Romney said today he will announce at a meeting in Michigan Nov. 18 whether he will seek the Republican presidential nomination.

The Michigan chief executive made his announcement at a news conference in a discussion of his cancellation of a television broadcast, set for Nov. 15, in which he had been expected to state his intentions.

He did not say immediately

where in Michigan the meeting will be.

Romney said Thursday he has cancelled the scheduled program on the Columbia Broadcasting System because network officials insisted in knowing two weeks ahead of time whether he would announce his candidacy on the show.

CBS officials contended Romney spokesmen had led the network to believe the telecast would be used for such an announcement.

The network said in a statement that its policies on political telecasts require limiting time sales to full-fledged candidates.

But Romney said his decision "should be conveyed first to all the American people at one time through media simultaneously and equally. This is what I intend to do in the near future."

As Romney and CBS released their differing versions of the arrangement, there were these other developments on the political scene:

—Former Gov. George Wallace of Alabama said in Santa Barbara, Calif., that Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark should be impeached unless he cracks down on Americans calling publicly for a North Vietnamese victory.

Wallace, who says he'll wage a third-party campaign unless the major parties adopt his conservative views, also had kind words for the John Birch Society.

—The protagonists in a long-playing California political feud said they'll work together for the re-election of President Johnson. Publicly burying the hatchet were former Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown and Los Angeles Mayor Samuel Yorty, who refused to back Brown's unsuccessful bid for re-election last year.

—Republican Gov. John Volpe of Massachusetts said in Dallas, Tex., that Vietnam will be the key issue in 1968 "even if the candidates don't want it to be." Volpe called former Vice President Richard M. Nixon the front-runner for the GOP nomination right now.

Loss of Power Over an Area

A bird or an animal short-circuited a high voltage transformer at a substation in Warrensburg Thursday, causing a blackout over all of Warrensburg and in Knob Noster, LaMonte, Centertown, and Holden, before power was restored by Missouri Public Service Co. supervisory personnel.

The power was out in Warrensburg for 20 minutes and the blackout lasted for 50 minutes in the other communities while the substation was checked for permanent damage, according to Clinton Black, district manager for the Missouri Public Service Co.

Whiteman Air Force Base near Knob Noster was unaffected by the power failure since it is on another line.

Telephone service in the communities was also briefly interrupted by the blackout.

The failure was the second in three days for customers of the M.P.S., which has been struck by Local 816 of the electrical workers union.

Local Firms' Bid On Road Work Apparently Low

The Howard and Menefee Construction Companies in Sedalia were the apparent low bidders Thursday on highway work to be done in three counties. Howard submitted a bid of $6,750,509.95, for work on Highway 54 in Camden County, Highway 60 in Shannon County, and Interstate 44 in Phelps County.

The Menefee Construction Co., submitted a bid of approximately $977,000 for two miles of resurfacing work on Interstate 44 in Laclede County and for the construction of an interchange on Interstate 44 at Conway, Mo., according to E. W. Menefee, president of the company.

Freeze warning. Fair to partly cloudy and cold over Saturday night. Low tonight upper 20s. High Saturday near 50.

The temperature Friday was 34 at 7 a.m., and 43 at noon with .46 inches of moisture. Low Thursday night was 34.

The temperature one year ago today was high 47; low 17. Lake of Ozark stage: 59.8 feet; 2 feet below full reservoir; up .5.

Father Charged In Deaths

ARCADIA, Fla. (AP)—James Richardson was charged on a coroner's warrant Thursday night with first degree murder in the parathion poisoning of his seven small children.

Richardson, 31, was charged after a six-member coroner's jury ruled he and "other persons unknown" administered the parathion "feloniously, wilfully and of his malice aforethought and with premeditated design."

"I just say I'm not guilty," the 5-foot-9 fruit picker said after Sheriff Frank Cline read the charge to him.

Richardson, who had been in jail since Tuesday night on a technical charge of child neglect, was accused of putting the parathion—a deadly agricultural pesticide that affects the nervous system—on food eaten by his children Oct. 29.

The children—ranging in age from 2 to 8—became violently ill within minutes. Six of them died that afternoon, and the seventh died the next morning.

Testimony at the inquest indicated Richardson had attempted to purchase $1,000 double indemnity insurance policies on each of the children the night before they were stricken. The insurance agent, Gerald Purvis of Palmetto, testified Richardson may have interpreted his remarks to mean the insurance was effective at once although the initial $3.20 premium had not been paid.

The children's mother, Annie Mae, 29, remained in jail on a child neglect charge filed Tuesday. She and her husband were arrested after they submitted to lie detector tests.

Johnson Appeal On Tax

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson's appeal to the public to help him fight inflation by pressuring Congress for a tax increase is evoking a "let him try it" reaction from Republicans on Capitol Hill.

In an address to a consumers' convention Thursday the President asked the people to "make yourselves heard" in support of the tax increase and to join him in fighting against higher tariffs on imports.

Johnson in effect promised to veto any tariff legislation that comes his way when he thumped the lectern and declared, "These bills must not become law—and they will not become law as long as I am President of this country."

Congressional Democrats were mostly silent about the President's remarks but Republicans expressed confidence Johnson would get burned if he tries to bring the wrath of the voters to bear on Congress in support of a tax increase.

"Let him go to the people with that issue," said Chairman Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, of the House Republican conference.

"We'll go to the people with our side of the same issue. We want to be sure any money raised by a tax increase is used to reduce the deficit and not for more spending. Then we'll talk about a tax increase," said Laird.

Even among Democrats there is apparently still widespread doubt not only that voters favor a tax increase, but that they would forgive those who vote for it.

Rep. Jamie Whitten, D-Miss., author of one of several pending moves for a mandatory spending cut, said the basic issue is still economy, rather than a tax increase.

Christian Comment

By Charles Cheffey, Pastor First Methodist Church Bishop Stephen Neill once said that a Christian must be converted three times. He must be converted once to God in Christ, once to the church as the body of Christ, and once to the world as the place of his life and witness. He added that the three need not come at the same time nor in any particular order, but all three must come.

The great religious revolution going on today is placing an emphasis upon the third conversion to the world as the place of our life and witness. We hear more and more that the really important "work" of the church is our witnessing in daily life and work. While some religious leaders seem concerned only about personal religion, a growing number of laymen and ministers are warning of the dangers involved in the neglect of Christians to work for social reform and renewal.

Silence or near silence of Christians in the face of the major social issues of our time, civil rights, housing, etc., is seen as cowardice or callousness. Worship must bring not only personal strength and security but must prepare us to give Christian witness wherever we are; on the job, at the club or resort, and in the home. In the past there have been deep and sometimes bitter feelings between some, on the one hand, who stressed personal experience and witness, and those on the other hand, who stressed action on social issues and the possibility of the renewal of belief.

It is my firm belief that the conflict will be resolved, at least in part, when we find the true meaning of the church. The body of Christ gives meaning to our personal lives and provides the group life within which we can witness in the world outside.

It appears that the best answer to the question, "What is the church?" will be given by the churches working across denominational lines. Surely the Spirit of God is at work in all parts of the church removing the rigidity of old forms and methods and bringing about the needed reformation and renewal. And if we Christians respond to the Spirit, the church will then become truly evangelical (the people of the Good News of Christ), truly reformed (continually undergoing renewal), and truly catholic (the whole church in the whole world).

'Dead' Soldier Is Alive

WASHINGTON (AP) — A young American soldier, pronounced dead of boobytrap wounds, showed signs of life while under the knife of a U.S. Army embalmer in Vietnam.

Spec. 4 Jack C. Bayne, 22, of Fort Mill, S.C., was pronounced dead near Chu Lai last July 16 after doctors had worked for 45 minutes trying resuscitation.

His seemingly lifeless body was sent routinely to an Army graves-registration section nearby and it was sometime later—no one knows exactly how long—when the embalmer's knife made its first incision.

There was a faint flicker of life and Bayne was rushed back to a field hospital. After more resuscitation and numerous blood transfusions there were other signs of life.

Today, more than three months later, Bayne is moving toward at least limited recovery at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington.

The Bayne story was published today by the Knight newspapers after research and interviews by James Batten of the Washington Bureau.

Army doctors at Walter Reed call the Bayne story "amazing" and "astounding." No doctor interviewed could recall such a case before.

An official spokesman at the hospital emphasized that the Bayne case is a medical rarity and should cause no worry to relatives of men fighting in Vietnam.

"Every effort," said the hospital spokesman "is made to help resuscitative measures whenever there is any hope of saving a patient."

Army doctors use a variety of tests to establish death before giving up on men wounded in combat. Only when there is no spontaneous breathing, no audible heart beat, no pulse and no activity on an electrocardiogram do doctors conclude that the patient is dead.

In the Bayne case, all these signs of death were apparent. "By all the accepted criteria he was dead," said one Army doctor.

His progress has been steady but Army doctors say that the human brain cannot be deprived of blood for more than four or five minutes without suffering damage.

"But he's really been improving quite remarkably," said an Army doctor familiar with the case.

This doctor, who declined to be identified, gave much of the credit to Bayne's 61-year-old mother. Mrs. Bunia Bayne has stayed at her son's side since he arrived at Walter Reed in early August.

"He says the Lord brought him back from Vietnam," said Mrs. Bayne.

During the four months Bayne was in Vietnam before he was wounded he wrote his mother several letters.

"He wrote, 'Please don't say I shouldn't be here. I should be here. It makes one appreciate their family and the country they live in,'" Mrs. Bayne said.

At Dallas' Love Field has been proposed by the airline. No date has been set for construction of the $2-million transportation facility.

WHY ARE WE SEPARATED?

All Christians believe in the same God. All Christians believe that Jesus is the Son of God. Why then, are we separated into many groups?

We know for sure that Jesus is the founder of only one church. And that for many years there was only one Church. Separation then, has come from man, either adding to, or taking away from the word of God.

At East Broadway Christian we believe God to be perfect. He does not need or want man's help in changing the church. We believe that he wants us to worship just as the Bible teaches.

Come and worship with us.

To Enforce Regulations On Exhaust

ST. LOUIS (AP)—About 30 St. Louis police officers began training today to enforce a city air pollution control ordinance banning excessive smoke emission from vehicle exhausts.

The training course will be completed Nov. 17 and the officers will begin ticketing motorists in violation of the law.

Charles M. Copeley Jr., city pollution control commissioner, conducted the first training session at the police academy.

The antipollution ordinance provides that smoke of a certain density can be emitted by a standing vehicle for no more than 10 seconds.

The same emission from a moving automobile or truck must stop by the time the vehicle has moved more than 100 yards.

The police officers will be trained to judge the density of emission.

Authorities said police officers will make allowance for condensed moisture pouring from vehicle exhausts during cold weather.

Penalties for violation of the ordinance are a fine up to $500 and up to 90 days in jail. Police said first offenders will be fined $5 and court costs.

Seek Bids For Postal Station

The Sedalia Post Office is seeking bids to construct a contract postal station at the Thompson Hills Shopping Center or in the area of the Plaza shopping location, Broadway and Limit, or at 16th and Limit, Postmaster Maurice Hogan announced today.

The postal station would be of the non-delivery type, designed for the sale of money orders, stamps, the reception of registered and COD mail, parcel post and certified mail, Hogan said.

Bond requirements are $3,000 and the contractor is to provide all clerical assistance to patrons desiring to use the station, when established. The closing date for bids is Nov. 15 at 3 p.m. All proposals must be submitted to Hogan on forms obtainable from him.

Hours of service, Hogan said, would probably be between 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. About 30 square feet of space, to be furnished by the contractor, are required. The contractor must also provide a suitable safe for the protection of accountable paper and funds.

The postal station would be set up from Nov. 25, 1967, to June 30, 1969, with renewal options provided.

Parkhurst

will be called in by the Chamber within three years.

The stock, he said, would be purchased through funds obtained from lease payments made by Parkhurst.

Cooper said, "This effort is made in order to provide local industry a chance to expand and still receive the maximum benefit from its investment. The Chamber of Commerce is entering into this agreement to help create new jobs in Sedalia and put more money into circulation here."

Option on Rest

When the agreement was signed, Parkhurst purchased about half the Industrial Park from the Chamber, with an option to purchase the remainder for future expansion. The Park consists of about 28 acres and the building has about 14,000 square feet of floor space.

William R. Parkhurst said the building would be used for assembly work only, since most parts will be made in another plant. Additional expansion, he said, is anticipated for warehousing of materials and a central parts depot for Nationwide Trailer Rental Service, Inc.

Parkhurst said about 60 new jobs would be created immediately. He added that about 12,000 trailers were being graded for re-work at the new location, but the exact number moving through Sedalia would depend "largely on how successful we are in setting up" the operation.

Phil Allen has been named new plant manager for the Parkhurst operation. Allen has moved here with his wife and four children from Minneapolis, Minn. According to Parkhurst, Allen will begin work on the new facility Nov. 11. No target date has been set for beginning actual operations in the plant, however.

The building involved was first occupied by Precision Manufacturing Co., then Boeing and presently Allied-Webb, a Boeing subcontractor. Allied-Webb is expected to vacate the building soon.

The entire transaction, according to Cooper, means essentially that the Chamber of Commerce has bought back land it originally sold. The move, he added, was to further industrial expansion in the city.

Witnessing the event Friday morning were William R. Parkhurst, president; Claude Boul, president of the Sedalia Improvement Association; Carl Yates and Gary Cooper of the Chamber of Commerce; William Hall, Sedalia Industrial development director; David Parkhurst, Richard Parkhurst and Phil Allen.

while it was parked on Holiday Inn's lot.

Charles Garner, 310 North Grand, reported to police that a U.S. Government check made out to him in the amount of $43 was taken from the above address sometime Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. August Hayes, 1528 East Fifth, reported to police that a .22 caliber automatic rifle, valued at $25, and a spot light, valued at $7, were taken from the above address sometime Thursday.

Rockefeller Center Is Continuing Its Growth

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — It was October, 1932. The Country was in the midst of the Depression and Prohibition.

And the first building in Rockefeller Center was opened.

Today, employment is at an all-time high and prohibition has gone the way of open-top buses.

And 208,500 persons from many different states work in or visit Rockefeller Center every day, making it the 56th largest community in the United States in terms of population.

And it's still growing.

G.S. Eyssell, president of Rockefeller Center, Inc., looks out his third-floor office window at the skating rink and the people scurrying along the flower-lined plaza and recalls that 35 years ago "it was a pretty shoddy, miserable area."

Crumbling brownstones filled the midtown Manhattan area, once part of New York's common pasture and later a botanical garden, when John D. Rockefeller Jr. decided in 1928 to lease 12 acres from Columbia University and build a new home for the Metropolitan Opera.

But the business crash came and the opera company pulled out, leaving Rockefeller with a $3.3-million annual rent bill and forcing him to seek an alternate development plan.

Rockefeller selected several architects and put to them this proposition: replace the 228 brownstones of yesterday with buildings that would survive not only today, but tomorrow; design structures that were related to one another, to open space and to the needs of prospective tenants.

The wreckers ball struck the first of the old brownstones, speakeasies and small stores in 1930.

Two property owners refused to move, and they're still there. Thus, the 70-story RCA Building is flanked on Sixth Avenue by two small buildings housing a drugstore and a bar.

The observation roof of the RCA Building rivals the 102-story Empire State Building as a viewing spot for tourists who, on a clear day, can see the vast panorama of the Metropolitan Area stretch away across three states.

A tradition also started in that year of 1932. The workmen set up a small Christmas tree in an excavation and lined up beneath the tree to get their paychecks. Every year since, a huge tree has stood in the plaza, drawing thousands of visitors and being shown on television screens across the nation in annual Christmas shows.

The first building, the 31-story RKO Building, was opened in October, 1932, just 2½ years after the start of demolition. The structure is now the American Metal Climax Building.

Radio City Music Hall opened next door on Dec. 27, 1932 with a mammoth vaudeville show.

Today the Music Hall is billed as "the Showplace of the Nation," with first-run movies and its famous Rockettes.

Keeping the approximately 9.6 million square feet of rentable space in Rockefeller Center sparkling is an army of almost 1,200 workers who clean an area equivalent to 8,000 six-room houses.

The center, often given the name "city within a city," has 25 restaurants, 16 airline offices, 58 travel and information bureaus, 20 foreign consulates, 12 railroad and 5 steamship offices—many in the underground concourse.

The center today includes 17 buildings owned and managed by Rockefeller Center, Inc. Two other buildings, including the New York Hilton Hotel at 53rd Street and Sixth Avenue, are owned partially by the corporation.

Teen-Agers Will Keep The Telephone Clean

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

One of the nice things about having a teen-ager in the home is that you never have to bother about wiping cobwebs or dust off the telephone.

Nothing looks happier than a small fat girl who has finally mastered the difficult art of keeping a hula hoop in motion around her chubby body.

It is time to leave a cocktail party when the guests begin to cluster and talk in authoritative tones about what should be done in Vietnam and which Republican should be nominated for president in 1968.

Bluebirds have become so scarce lately that they should put a few in zoo aviaries so children won't grow up without ever having seen one of the loveliest of nature's feathered creatures.

US Dairy Industry Troubled

WASHINGTON (AP) — The economically troubled U.S. dairy industry—still feeling the effect of oleomargarine's inroads on its once lucrative butter market—now faces a threat to milk sales from an inexpensive new substitute.

Generally referred to as "filled" or "imitation" milk, the new product is being offered at prices several cents a quart below that of milk.

And like oleomargarine, the new milk uses vegetable fats in place of the more expensive dairy fats.

What to do about it is something the National Milk Producers Federation will debate at its convention in Miami Beach, Fla., Nov. 12-16.

Filled milk is already well established in Western states and making its way East. Its rising sales curve comes at a time when many dairymen claim inadequate milk prices are forcing them out of business.

Some dairy leaders want new laws barring sale of the product—just as efforts of this kind were used for years to limit sale of oleomargarine. Dairymen have lost the bulk of their butter market to oleomargarine despite such efforts.

The industry is in a sense contributing to the threat against it because the new product uses a low-cost dairy product—skim milk—along with vegetable fats. Skim milk provides the needed calcium, minerals and proteins.

There is talk of seeking government action to raise prices of the skim milk to a level which would take away the present price advantage the new product has over fluid milk.

Dissipation of a Miasma

The Senate Select Committee on Standards and Conduct recently exonerated Missouri Senator Edward V. Long of unethical conduct implications made by a national magazine.

The finale concerning the allegations makes interesting reading in two full pages of the Congressional Record a copy of which is available for perusal by any Central Missourian who cares to visit our editorial office.

Report of the committee was made by its chairman, Senator John C. Stennis on the floor of the Senate. It is comprehensive enough in its review of the investigation to encourage revision of some political judgments made prior thereto.

In substance, Senator Stennis reported: "From the evidence and information the Committee has been able to develop, the Committee has found no facts which show that either the payments to Mr. (Morris) Shenker (St. Louis attorney) from the five clients, or the payments by Mr. Shenker to Senator Long, had any connection with Senator Long's duties or activities as Chairman of the Subcommittee on Administrative Practice and Procedure, the Subcommittee hearings, or Senator Long's duties or activities as a Member of the Senate.

"Under this state of facts the Committee finds no basis for public hearings."

All the evidence is in and unless additional evidence arises, the investigating committee has completed its job.

Ethics and propriety had nothing to do with the committee's decision. In Senator

Long's case this will be a subject upon which Missouri voters will meditate at leisure before making their own decision next August.

Admittedly, the honor and integrity of Senator Long was at stake and there is great relief to him and his friends that the committee found no evidence he had used his influence for the purpose of assisting James Hoffa, president of the International Teamsters' Union.

Unless substantial evidence arises contrary to the committee's findings, the matter is closed to them. It will be interesting to note whether the national magazine continues to belabor Senator Long without presenting documented material having more authority than heretofore presented.

Regardless of the Senate Committee's conclusions, innuendos will continue to be wafted on the political breezes from now until the primary election next August when Missourians will choose to elect Lt. Governor Thomas F. Eagleton or re-elect Senator Long.

That's the way the matter of Democratic senatorial candidates stands today. We can but hope that during the months ahead both contestants will refrain from the temptation to hit low blows although some supporters of both men will goad them to do so.

Already yet we have had two ears full of preliminary muck which offers discouraging signs of a dirty campaign not by the candidates themselves, but by some over-enthusiastic, unprincipled and lambasting adherents.

The Global View

200,000 GIs Protecting Europe

By LEON DENNEN
NEA Foreign News Analyst

NEW YORK — More than 200,000 American troops are stationed in Europe at a time when United States resources are increasingly taxed by the war in Vietnam.

Despite repeated requests by the Johnson administration, the NATO allies have given little or no practical help to contain the Communists in Southeast Asia. They expect the United States to defend Europe but consider the Vietnamese conflict as an "American affair."

When will Johnson tell NATO clearly and firmly that America is no longer in a position to police Europe and at the same time fight aggression in Southeast Asia?

Even the West Germans have adopted a posture of neutrality in the Vietnamese conflict. They stand most to gain from the American presence in Europe. They are eager to keep every single GI on their soil while they search for ways and means to reach an understanding with Russia. But to impress Moscow with their neutrality and independence and to appease French President De Gaulle, they are increasingly critical of the war in Vietnam.

According to Helmut Schmidt, an influential West German politician, the United States has "no convincing political formula" for a solution of the Vietnam problem. He recently visited Washington and returned to Bonn with a full bag of critical statements.

Schmidt is no ordinary politician. He is the leader of the Social Democratic deputies in Bonn's Bundestag. He is a close associate of Willy Brandt, West German vice chancellor and foreign minister.

Like Brandt, Schmidt is eager for a rapprochement with Russia. He is obviously convinced that he could soften Moscow's policy on Bonn and German unity by attacking American policy on Vietnam.

Taking their cue from De Gaulle, an increasing number of West German leaders no longer draw the parallel between Vietnam and Berlin they did in 1965. Then they welcomed the escalation of the war as a demonstration of the reliability of American guarantees. Now, Bonn's politicians see U.S. commitment in Southeast Asia as a "tragic involvement."

Even more disturbing are reports that the West German government has been conferring secretly with representatives of Red China about improving trade relations.

Not long ago a West German trade commission was in Peking to discuss arrangements for building a steel rolling mill at a cost of $196 million. The project was to have been financed by German, Belgian (another NATO member) and French concerns. West Germany has become Red China's biggest single European trading partner.

Why, then, should the Johnson administration continue to maintain a costly force in Europe?

The North Atlantic alliance was originally created to defend Europe against Russia. Today the Russians are too busy with their Red Chinese enemy and their economic difficulties to dream of military adventures in Europe. Moscow's military strategists never relished the idea of a possible conflict on two fronts—in the Far East and West.

Europe will not be in danger in the foreseeable future. The crucial issue for the United States is Vietnam and Southeast Asia.

Surely this is the time to give serious consideration to the proposal for a massive troop withdrawal from Europe advanced by Senate majority leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont.

Democrat Pickups

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Miss Erna Ann McClure, Route 5, Sedalia, was appointed stenographer in the office of the Selective Service board, succeeding Norman Hill who resigned to enter military service. Miss McClure was formerly employed in the county assessor's office.

—1942—

A pile of broken concrete near the Bothwell Hotel where some repair work is going on, was topped with a new sign early this morning. It reads: "Here lies the Democratic party."

Inspiration for it originated from the results of the Tuesday election in which Republicans made a clean sweep in the county winning all county offices except one, that of Circuit Clerk to which Bryan Howe was reelected.

—1927—

FORTY YEARS AGO

J. E. Clark, 112 East Tenth street, has a cherry tree in full bloom for the second time this year. The tree had a large crop of fruit early in the spring.

Halloween with its joy and mirth for everybody from the youngsters to 95 was made memorable again this year by the Sedalia Kiwanis club. The organization's pretentious plans outdid its successful community celebration of a year ago.

Among the Halloween visitors at one home were four little boys dressed up in cute costumes. Other years the woman had invited youngsters into her home when they came, but the night was so bad this time she didn't.

However, it was different with the four little boys. They didn't want the usual kind of treats, what they wanted was a drink of water.

"If you will just give us a drink of water," said one, "we won't need a treat."

She invited them in, took them to the kitchen, and gave each a glass of water. Then one of them said: "Lady, would you pull my tooth?"

"Oh," she told him, "I think you had better go home and let your mother pull the tooth."

"Have you got a pair of pliers?" he wanted to know.

"Yes," she said, and got the pliers for him, and he pulled the tooth himself.

She gave him a can to spit in and some napkins. Then she gave them all some candy and cookies, for which all of them thanked her profusely and left, but not before they had told her they had knocked on another door and asked for a drink which they were refused. They said from back in the house came a woman's voice which yelled: "Don't let those kids in here."

The woman who gave them a drink couldn't help thinking what a lot the other woman had missed. — H. L.

Protests: Eternal Search For Love, Justice, Dignity

By DAVID POLING

When a national dream turns sour, when dissension and unhappiness pervade society, when current events take shocking turns, some people seek a simple answer.

So it was that Richard Nixon wrote in the October Reader's Digest:

"Our teachers, preachers and politicians have gone too far in advocating the idea that each individual should determine what laws are good and what laws are bad, and that he then should obey the law he likes and disobey the law he dislikes."

Nixon thereby suggests that the 300,000 clergymen in these United States are in part responsible for the general moral collapse of the body politic and are specifically charged with the burning of Newark, Watts and Detroit, our poor showing in Vietnam and the existence of third generation families on welfare.

Since Nixon names no clergyman, teacher or politician, he tries to succeed with this villain-seeking piece by accusing an entire professional group in this country

The premise of his text is that you ought to obey unjust laws.

According to Nixon's stance, Moses had no right or moral basis for his breaking out of Egypt. He should have obeyed the laws of Pharaoh (wicked, unjust and oppressive) and relieved the slavery of his people through patience and trust in Nile justice. Exodus is really a primer on civil disobedience and one man's willingness to follow the dictates of God in preference to the threats and rewards of the delta society.

Any study of the life of Jesus Christ reveals One who put His face against the prevailing order of church and state and taught a higher and more demanding law—The Kingdom of Heaven. His followers saw the inside of prison and arena because they chose to obey God and disregard the seductions of wicked laws and perverted judges.

Do you know how many years chattel slavery was the law, enforced by armies, administered by kings and governments and accepted by populations? We had 3,000 years of it until the people no longer could stomach this "lawful order" and threw it up. There was plenty of gentle and violent civil disobedience in the process, for the longer an unjust law, the more violent the change.

What Nixon and his counselors need to understand is this: Our society is going through torment in the streets, violence in the ghettos, demonstrations in the universities and picketing in the plazas because people want change.

Basically, it is a search for more love, more justice, more humanity and more dignity. If it were already a wonderful reality, we would have more picnics and fewer protests.

And where is the clergy in all this? What the clergy is really teaching is obedience—obedience to the demands, expectations and requirements of a just and holy God, as they see them. When that feeling of allegiance and loyalty takes hold of people, they can no longer live with injustice and wickedness.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

No Treatment Necessary For 'Night Paralysis'

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—What would cause weakness in my fingers so that I can't hold a pen or button my shirt?

A—You may be in the early stage of one of the muscle-wasting diseases—progressive muscular atrophy, amyotrophic lateral sclerosis, multiple sclerosis or bulbar palsy. You should have a complete check-up by a nerve specialist.

Q—What is the cause of night paralysis? Is there any treatment for it?

A—When a person with night paralysis wakes up he lies motionless, unable even to open his eyes. He feels that, if he could move a single muscle, that would break the spell and full muscle power would return. The touch of a hand will relieve the paralysis instantly or after a brief period the victim's motor power will return spontaneously. The cause is unknown and no treatment is necessary.

Q—What are the symptoms of Parkinson's disease? How does a doctor make the diagnosis?

A—In Parkinson's disease, paralysis agitans or shaking palsy, there is a coarse rhythmic tremor that may affect the head or the limbs. In the fingers it is known as a pill-rolling tremor. The posture becomes stooped. The facial expression is rigid and the speech rhythmic and expressionless. The tremors can be stopped momentarily with hard concentration. Since these symptoms are characteristic of no other disease the diagnosis can hardly be missed.

Q—I have Parkinson's disease. Could it make me lose my balance? Is there any cure for it?

A—The cause is unknown. Persons with this disease develop a quick, shuffling accelerating gait because their stooped posture throws them off-balance. Thus they are more likely to lose their balance when walking than when standing still. Treatment with modern drugs and an operation in which a small area in the brain is destroyed by freezing has gone far to bring relief to some victims of this disease.

Share the Prospects

By CYRENE DEAR

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman opened recently the National Conference on Rural Youth with Vice President Hubert Humphrey as key note speaker.

In the blue and gold pillared Department auditorium, the colorful red-coated Marine Band entertained the 75 youth and 600 youth leaders.

The Vice President struck a patriotic and fitting note when he contrasted the attractive, clean looking delegates with the beatnik and hippy youths who had marched on the Pentagon. He drew emphatic applause when he said he saw uniformed G.I.'s cleaning up the mess around the government's largest building left there by the belligerent protestors the preceding day.

In addressing the conference group, Mr. Humphrey said:

"Your theme is PROSPECTS. America's prospects today are dramatic. Our country is rich and getting richer. America's farms produce a greater abundance than any other farms in the world, and that abundance will surely increase. For the first time in the history of mankind, there is a nation that can satisfy the material needs of each of its citizens.

"Every young person should fully share in those prospects — but the statistics say that many who live in rural areas, are not sharing adequately now:

—the largest number of poor youth live in rural areas:

—about one-third of all rural young people were living in substandard housing as recently as 1960;

—for every 77 rural youngsters who reach working age, there are only 100 jobs;

—in 1960, 22 per cent of all rural five-year-olds were in kindergarten. In cities, the figure was 46 per cent;

—the average rural teenager completes about nine years of school. The figure is over 12 years in the cities.

—there are fewer doctors, hospitals, clinics, and nurses per capita in rural areas than in the cities.

"Moreover the remedies available today have not been used adequately in rural America:

—our education assistance programs are more frequently and fully used by city schools than rural schools.

—Our health assistance programs serve the cities more than the country.

—Only about half of the nation's rural counties are served by local offices of the state employment services. Yet each of the urban counties has at least one—and often several—local employment offices.

"Communities in rural America are scattered, not concentrated.

"Their problems are often not susceptible to treatment by large-scale programs. And local governments in rural America are often unaware of state and federal assistance that is available to them; or else their tax base is too small to support the kind of local initiatives that would enable them to take advantage of Federal Rural Assistance Programs.

"The material disadvantages which affect many young people in rural areas conspire to deprive them of one of our most basic American freedoms, freedom of choice—choice of where to live, choice of employment.

"That is perhaps the greatest tragedy. And that is the challenge. Rural America must offer these young people opportunities to learn and work equal to those available to the city.

"Between 1950 and 1960, 11 million Americans migrated to the cities. Seventy per cent of us now live in these cities, on one per cent of the land.

"That trend continues today and the largest proportion of the migrants are young. Indeed, about 200 thousand young Americans living in rural areas today will have been drawn or forced into the city within a year.

"Most of them will arrive with high hopes. Some without the skill to support themselves. Many will find themselves confined to slum apartments, trapped in an alien environment.

"And what has not happened in many areas of rural America is a major cause of what has happened in urban America. In New York City, for example, more than one-third of the enrollees in a Neighborhood Youth Corps program were from rural America.

"What this means, of course, is that the problems of rural America and the problems of urban America have to be treated together, as part of the same national challenge.

"By the year 2000, it is estimated that there will be 100 million more Americans. Where will they live? What will be their choices? What kind of an America will they find?

"The challenge, as I see it, is to provide every citizen, and especially the young ones, no matter where they live, with a full measure of opportunity and a full measure of choice.

"It does mean extending modern living to rural areas.

"We are not trying to build a welfare state, but we are trying to build an opportunity for every American citizen."

Here is another hand that shows the technique of rubber bridge. South's pass and West's one spade bid are normal enough and we won't quarrel with North's takeout double. East's redouble is also correct by any standard, and we rather like South's bid of two hearts.

North might have given an immediate heart raise but he knew that East had promised a bid when he redoubled one spade, so North decided to await developments.

Two spades was the best bid East could find and West should have passed. It would take a microscope to discover any additional values in his hand. In any event, that three spade bid produced spectacular results. North decided to try four hearts and East promptly doubled. No one had anywhere to go, and it was up to West to lead.

If he had led a diamond South would have wound up going down at least one trick, but West led the king of spades.

South looked over the dummy unhappily. He had hoped to get a crack at three spades, but here he was trying to make four hearts. The lead was all right. He ruffed in dummy and saw nothing better to do than to play a low diamond.

East played the king, just to keep in practice with his false-carding. A club shift at this point would have really bothered South, but East had an inspiration. He played ace and another heart.

South smiled happily and proceeded to gather in the rest of the tricks. He played ace and another diamond which he ruffed. The queen of spades produced West's ace and a ruff in dummy. Diamonds did not break, but when the nine of spades fell, South was able to discard two clubs from dummy and use the last trump to ruff his club deuce.

Firm's Employees Receive Honors

Six employees of the Cities Service Gas Company's Knob Noster compressor station and gas measurement department were honored by the company at a dinner Tuesday night in Sedalia for maintaining an outstanding safety record which includes two years without a disabling injury.

Ray Richardson, superintendent of the Knob Noster station, accepted a plaque from Ira Meador, chairman of the safety committee for the company.

Also recognized at the meeting was Kenneth W. Roberts, a gas measurement employee, who was honored for his department's record.

Those honored from Knob Noster include W. F. Perry, J. W. Sutherland, G. N. Dillon, and E. C. McKellips.

Her voice changes as she describes various roles: "I do French girls Cockney accents, Svenska, and ah do Suth'n dialects."

The secret is "having a good ear and flexible vocal cords."

Born in Springfield, Mass., Miss Foray came to Hollywood with her parents at 17 and started a local radio show, writing and playing all the parts, then graduated to network radio.

A Woman Of 1,000 Voices

By GENE HANDSAKER

Associated Press Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP)—She's a tiny thing, with auburn hair, sparkling eyes and a remarkable vocal range—for babies and birds to sexy dames, dotting grandmas and cackling witches.

For 20 years a frequent cry from Hollywood producers with feminine-voice problems has been, "Get June Foray."

She earns $250 an hour and is probably Hollywood's top woman practitioner of the obscure trade listed in her modest 2 1/2 lines in the Motion Picture Almanac: voice specialist.

Ann Sheridan died before she could rerecord dialogue for her last television show that extraneous noises had ruined the sound track.

Miss Foray, after listening carefully to Miss Sheridan's voice, did the rerecording, matching the words to Ann's lip movements.

"Sometimes the producer will add dialogue after the star has gone, say, to Europe," said June. "It's cheaper and quicker to have me do it than bring her back."

"And a lot of young actresses whom I can't mention do a lousy job and they call me in to pull them out of the soup by replacing their voices. How did they get the job in the first place? Because they look good."

On a "Rawhide" she rerecorded the entire dialogue of one week's guest star.

It taxes Miss Foray, who works almost constantly, to re-

Mules To Meet NMS In Contest

WARRENSBURG, MO. Nov. 3 (Special) — Saturday's "Parents Day" football game at Central Missouri State College will match the hard hitting Mules against the Northwest Missouri State College Bearcats.

The low scoring Bearcats, 1-2 in MIAA play and 2-5 for the season, have beaten Peru, Neb., 27-0 and Northeast Missouri State Teachers College 13-7 while losing to Arkansas A&M 14-0, William Jewell 28-24, Drake University 7-0, Southeast Missouri State College 30-8, and Southwest Missouri State College 7-6.

Coached by Ivan Schottel, NWMSC has scored only 27 points in MIAA action this year as compared to their opponents 44 points. Schottel is in his fifth year as head coach at NWMSC where he has compiled a 20-16-1 overall record.

NWMSC has shared or won eight MIAA championships since the founding of the MIAA in 1924. However, this year the best they could possibly do is tie for the MIAA title. To finish high in the MIAA standings this year the Bearcats must get by the Mules.

The Bearcats are paced by fullback Tom Owen, ends Barry Monaghan and Leon Muff, and middle guard Bob Leach.

Going into last week's game the flashy Owen led the MIAA in scoring with 32 points scored on five TD's and two extra points. He was also leading the MIAA in rushing average with a 5.3 yards per carry average. He has accumulated 325 yards on 61 carries in the Bearcats first six games.

Sure-handed Monaghan is the Bearcats leading pass receiver. In six games he has been on the receiving end of 11 passes for 233 yards and two touchdowns.

Muff scored NWMSC's only points in last week's loss to SWMSC when he caught a 23-yard pass from Joe Calia for six points. Versatile Muff and CMSC's Don Lang are the top two punters in the MIAA. According to last week's MIAA release, Lang was leading Muff by 0.1 yards per punt in punting average.

Leach, junior from Roseville, Mich., is rated as one of the best middle guards in the MIAA. Spearheading the Bearcat defense Leach is averaging 10.3 tackles per game and 2.2 assists per game. Where ever Leach goes there is trouble for the Bearcat opposition.

NWMSC's encounter with CMSC will match two of the best defensive teams in the MIAA. The Bearcats and the Mules have allowed the same number of yards rushing this year—1021. In passing defense the Mules have given up only 682 yards to NWMSC's 830 yards.

Plans New Outlays On Complex

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Lamar Hunt, owner of the Kansas City Chiefs, has plans to spend more money making additions to the coming sports complex in Kansas City than the $43 million Jackson County voted for it.

Dutton Brookfield, chairman of the Jackson County Sports Authority, said Thursday in a speech that Hunt hopes to lease the sports complex from the county and then acquire additional land for a car racing track, a space needle restaurant, and a family entertainment center of the Disneyland type.

Under Hunt's proposal, still in the preliminary stage, he would form an operating company and agree to pay some $50 million for a 99-year lease on the two-stadium complex, Brookfield said.

"I think it will be hard for Jackson County to turn down a man with that kind of money to spend," said Brookfield, who emphasized that he was speaking only for himself. "I haven't seen any Lamar Hunts around Kansas City before and I've been here 49 years."

"Of course it is up to the county court to decide whether a private company such as that which Hunt has proposed or a public group such as the complex authority can do the best job."

An important factor, Brookfield said, is that the county does not have the risk capital to begin to match the capabilities for building that Hunt has.

Brookfield said a counter proposal is being prepared to submit to the owner of the Chiefs which would lease the whole site to Hunt but would provide assurance that an attractive lease would be made to any prospective owner of the new Kansas City American League baseball club that will begin play here in 1969.

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer
Potent Oklahoma, bidding for a return to its glory days of the 1950s when it dominated college football, takes on Colorado, coached by former OU quarterback Eddie Crowder, in a vital Big Eight game Saturday at Norman, Okla.

"If Oklahoma wins, it will be awfully tough for us or anyone to catch them," Crowder said. "They can afford a loss. I don't believe anyone is going through unbeaten."

Upstart Kansas, the Big Eight leader by half a game at 3-0 against Oklahoma's 2-0, takes on Kansas State at Lawrence, Okla. State, which knocked Colorado from the unbeaten ranks 10-7 last week, is very much in the title picture at 1-1 with the return of quarterback Ron Johnson.

OSU meets Missouri at Stillwater while defending champ Nebraska, still hoping for a title tie, meets Iowa State at Lincoln. Nebraska and Missouri are tied at 1-2 but both have a chance for a four or five-way tie at 5-2 involving either one, but not both.

Only 12 league games have been played with 16 to go, but results of five of them were a reversal from recent years. The only three league schools to win the crown since 1960 are Missouri, Nebraska and Oklahoma. It's possible for Colorado to beat all three, and still miss the title. Crowder's club still must face Kansas Nov. 11.

This is a measure of how top-spyrury this season has been, spiced by three new coaches—Chuck Fairbanks at Oklahoma, Pepper Rodgers at Kansas and Vince Gibson at K-State.

A four or five-way tie at 5-2 isn't a bit far-fetched. It wouldn't require any upsets by Iowa State or K-State, the last two teams.

Colorado was more impressive in beating Missouri 23-9 than was Oklahoma in doing it 7-0, at least offensively. The Oklahoma defense is quick and tough, permitting only 16 points in five games.

Four injured Colorado offensive regulars have knee troubles and won't be at full strength against OU even if they get into the game. All four missed the OSU game, but the loss wasn't a fluke—OSU drove through the healthy Colorado defense for 232 yards rushing.

The potent OU offense is strong enough to carry the day. After K-State won its opener at Colorado State, its first victory since 1964, Gibson was asked about a school holiday. He replied "Naw, we'll save that for Kansas." The Gibson-Rodgers recruiting war also heats this one up.

Kansas quarterback Bob Douglass has been getting more proficient with his passing each week, however, and the Jayhawk running game is improved.

OSU rates an edge because of Johnson's return, but it will be a tight one. Nebraska has too many weapons for Iowa State. Crowds should reach 60,000 at Norman, 65,000 at Lincoln 46,000 at Lawrence and 30,000 at Stillwater if the weather is good.

Chiefs Claim Wayne Frazier

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Chiefs, who lost three centers through injuries in three weeks, have claimed Wayne Frazier on waivers from Buffalo in the American Football League.

Coach Hank Stram said Thursday that Frazier, who started for the Chiefs most of last season, will play center against the New York Jets Sunday. Frazier was traded to Buffalo during the summer.

Center Mike Hudock and line-backer E. J. Holub were placed on the injured waiver list, both with pulled leg muscles, and they can't return to the active roster for 16 days.

Kirksville Harriers Seek Win

KIRKSVILLE, MO., Nov. 2 (Special) — Hoping to capture their seventh team title, the Northeast Missouri State Harriers will compete in Saturday's 10th annual MIAA Conference cross-country championship at Warrensburg.

The Bulldogs won six consecutive crowns from 1959-64, but they finished second the past two years to Southeast Missouri, this weekend's meet favorite.

"We have a shot at the championship; however, the Indians are extremely well-balanced again this season, with the likes of Bill Wirtz (fourth in 1966), Jim Stoverink (second), and Rick Barber (ninth)," Coach Tom Songster declared this week. During the 1967 campaign, the Southeast Missouri trio has been clocked at 20:03, 20:18, and 20:26, respectively.

Northeast Missouri's best four-mile times have been by Ron Werling (Tipton, Ia.), 20:03.5; freshman Pat Sullivan (Riverview Gardens), 20:54; and Keith Allen (Eldon, Ia.), 21:06. Werling, individual champ the past two seasons in the conference encounter and 11th in the NCAA College Division Meet a year ago, will be trying to break his own MIAA four-mile time of 20:46.5, established in 1966.

In competition prior to the league encounter, Northeast Missouri posted a 4-1 dual mark and finished fifth in the Southwest Missouri State College Invitational. Victories were at the expense of Lincoln, Western Illinois, Culverstock, and Central Missouri, and the setback was to powerful Kansas State of Emporia.

However, if the Bulldogs shope to finish ahead of Saturday's field, Werling will need plenty of help from Sullivan and Allen, as well as Wayne Denney (Chicago), Tom Logan (Sedalia), Bill Young (Riverview Gardens), and Ron Nissing (Warrenton). Denney's fastest four-mile time has been 21:48; Logan, 22:12; Young, 23:14; and Nissing, 23:23. Allen was sixth a year ago, and Young was 19th.

Other teams to watch on Saturday are Southwest Missouri and host Central Missouri, both capable of finishing first with top performances from their participants. The meet is scheduled for 11 a.m. on the four-mile Pertle Springs golf course.

centers: Jon Gilliam, out for the season with a knee injury; Tony Dimidio, sidelined last week by a bad knee, with Holub filling in for him on offense; then Hudock, who had been called out of retirement when Gilliam left, was hurt last Sunday.

The 1968 U.S. Open golf championship will be held at Oak Hill in Rochester, N. Y., June 13-16.

Junior Kickers Whip KC

Center-Forward Bill Balance led the attack for the Sedalia Juniors Soccer team, while Jim Parker and Rick Weather held the defense together for a 4-2 victory over Club Kansas City.

Balance scored two times in the second half. Both scores knotted the game; then Dennis Johnson and Sam Gravitt pushed home markers to leave the Kansas Citians behind.

Parker and Weather repeatedly stole the ball from the visitors and caused numerous offsides. The SJ's defense was so efficient that goalie Paul Cason needed to make but eight saves, while the locals got off 17 shots.

After playing 32 minutes of scoreless soccer KC's Tom Young blasted the nets for a one goal lead. Balance came back 12 minutes later to knot the game only to have Ron Malbreu put Kansas City ahead in the closing seconds of the Third quarter. In the last 15 minutes the SJ's exploded for the scores off the feet of Balance, Johnson and Gravitt.

Sedalia's next encounter will be against CMSAC of St. Louis at Jefferson City, Saturday. Sunday the team will meet the K.C. Club on their home field.

Score by quarters:

	1	2	3	4	T
K.C.	0	0	2	0	2
S.J.'s	0	0	1	3	4

Goals: Kansas City, Maguel Himeze; Sedalia, Paul Cason. Save: Kansas City, 11; Sedalia, 8.

Corners: Kansas City, 2; Sedalia 5.

Records: K.C. 3 wins 1 loss; Sedalia 2 wins, 6 losses.

Mahovich Grounded By Illness

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Frank Mahovich, the big man in the Toronto Maple Leafs' attack, has been grounded again by a mysterious illness.

His teammates never have been healthier. The Maple Leafs, playing without ailing Mahovich, trampled the Detroit Red Wings 9-3 Thursday night for their fourth National Hockey League victory in the last five starts.

Mahovich, the club's leading scorer, was left behind in a Toronto hospital—reportedly suffering from depression and tension—when the Leafs traveled to Detroit following Wednesday night's 5-0 victory over Montreal.

But rookie Wayne Carleton, filling in for the Big M, picked up a goal and two assists while George Armstrong and Brian Conacher each tallied twice as Toronto halted the Red Wings' four-game winning string with the biggest scoring spree of the young season.

The Chicago Black Hawks downed the Los Angeles Kings 3-1 and the Minnesota North Stars topped the Philadelphia Flyers 3-1 in the only other games on Thursday's schedule.

Bobby Hull broke a scoreless second-period deadlock with his 10th goal of the season, triggering the Black Hawks' victory at Los Angeles. Ken Wharram and Doug Jarrett also scored for Chicago before Bill Flett's third-period goal averted a shutout for the Kings. Goalie Wayne Rutledge of Los Angeles suffered a possible broken nose after being struck by the puck midway in the first period.

Goals by Andre Boudrias, Wayne Connelly and Ted Taylor carried Minnesota to its first road victory. Garry Peters scored for the Flyers, who lost left winger Brit Selby for six to eight weeks with a shoulder separation.

Okay Schedule

CHICAGO (AP)—The American League, by a vote of 9-1, Thursday approved the Chicago White Sox schedule of nine baseball games to be played in Milwaukee next season.

'A' Team Tigers Lose Last Game

The Smith-Cotton Freshman "A" Tiger football team lost their final game Thursday night to the Jefferson City Jays Freshman team 0-7. It was the second loss of the season for the Tigers.

The Tigers closed out the season 5-2. Their first loss was to Columbia 20-21.

The game Thursday night in the Capital City was played during a pouring rain. Both teams having their troubles throughout the evening because of the weather.

Cy Young Award To Lonborg

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Lonborg, whose 22 victories helped the Boston Red Sox capture their first American League pennant in 21 years, was named winner today of the Cy Young Award as the circuit's outstanding pitcher.

The 25-year-old right-hander from San Luis Obispo, Calif. collected 18 votes from the 20 members of the Baseball Writers Association of America who participated in the balloting.

Joe Horlen, Chicago White Sox' right-hander, was named on the other two ballots.

This is the first year that one pitcher representing each league has been honored by the baseball writers. Mike McCormick, veteran left-hander of the San Francisco Giants, was chosen the National League's top pitcher earlier this week. The Young Award was originated in 1956.

Lonborg lost only nine games while tying Detroit's Earl Wilson for most AL victories. He also paced the circuit in strikeouts with 246 and walked only 83 batters in 273 innings. His earned run average was 3.16.

"I'm pleased, but I'm not surprised," Lonborg said in San Luis Obispo when he learned of the award.

Lonborg's most notable triumph was achieved on the final day of the season when he pitched a seven-hitter in defeating Minnesota 5-3. The victory coupled with Detroit's loss to California in the second game of a doubleheader enabled the Red Sox to clinch first place.

A 6-foot-6, 195-pound native of Santa Maria, Calif., Lonborg joined the Red Sox in 1965 after spending two years in the minors, one with Winston-Salem of the Carolina League and the other with Seattle of the Pacific Coast League. He posted a 9-17 record for Boston in 1965 and was 10-10 in 1966.

Horlen won 19 games and lost seven for the fourth-place White Sox. Among his victories was a no-run, no-hit game against Detroit on Sept. 10. He led the AL in ERA with 2.06, struck out 103 batters and walked 58.

Bold Minstrel Fools Pro Rider

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Steinkraus is not one who surprises easily. He has been riding horses for 37 of his 42 years and at this stage of the game figures there are few horses around who can fool him.

"But," he said today, "Bold Minstrel did. We've had the horse on the U.S. Equestrian team for two years and I never thought much of him as a Puisseance (high jumping) mount."

But before a crowd of 11,000 in the National Horse Show in Madison Square Garden Thursday night, Bold Minstrel, one of the oldest members of the U.S. Equestrian team, cleared 7 feet 3 inches to set an International record. He also tied the 24-hour-old Garden record which was set by Dear Brutus Wednesday in an open jumper class.

There were only three heights in the Puisseance over the Great Wall. It started at 5-8, went to 6-8 and then to 7-3. It was a precedent-shattering move by Arthur McCashin, the course designer and himself a former U.S. Equestrian team rider.

Usually, the wall is raised about three inches at a time.

Coming From Upset

Oklahoma State May Give Tigers A Game

COLUMBIA, MO., Nov. 3 — Will Oklahoma State's stunning upset of Colorado inspire the Pokes to an even greater effort against Mizzou this Saturday at Stillwater?

Not in Tiger coach Dan Devine's book.

"I don't think it will make any difference," Devine said this week. "OSU is always double-tough for Missouri."

However, down in Stillwater motivation probably will run high for both squads. Phil Cutchins' Cowpokes hope to maintain their momentum after a startling 10-7 surprise over the nation's No. 3 team, Colorado. Missouri is looking for a bounce-back win after losing a hard-fought 7-0 decision to Oklahoma.

More of the same head-knocking action is in store for the Tigers when they meet another bruiser from the Sooner State before an estimated crowd of 30,000 in Lewis Stadium. Kickoff time is 1:30 p.m.

Missouri and Oklahoma State are reminiscent of each other in their style of play. Both squads feature hard-shelled defenses. On offense neither team is noted for boasting a quick strike or a fancy attack.

Last season in Columbia, the two teams played their typical hard-nosed contest. The big break came when Missouri halfback Ray Thorpe grabbed a lateral from quarterback Gary Kombrink and scampered 42 yards for the lone score in the Bengals' 7-0 victory.

This year Missouri is 4-2 but just 1-2 in the Big Eight with Colorado and Oklahoma providing the notations on the debit side. The Cowpokes, 2-2-1 overall, have broken even in the conference, defeating Colorado and losing to Kansas.

The boost for OSU against Colorado was having quarterback Ronnie Johnson back in action after timely recovery from a broken wrist. Johnson, like Missouri's Kombrink, is a quick, elusive runner. It was his 23-yard jaunt after a bad snap on a punt attempt which provided the clincher last week.

Johnson receives assistance from halfback Larry Gosney and fullback Jack Reynolds. Neither is dominant in size but the Cowpoke backs bulldozed for 232 yards against Colorado.

Even more surprising was the way OSU's defense bottled up the powerful Colorado offense. State's small but rugged stoppers are led by halfback Harry Cheatwood, the Pokes' leading tackler in the secondary last year despite missing half the season.

Missouri is coming off a stellar defensive performance in spite of the lack of firepower on offense. The point-preventing front line is hurting. Guard Carl Garber and tackle Curt Jones are available but may be playing at less than full speed.

On offense the Tigers also have been forced to make some adjustments. Roger Short figures to replace tackle Mike Wempe who is out with a pinched neck nerve. At guard, sophomore Joe Clark has moved into the starting picture ahead of Jim Wilsey.

Flashy halfback Jon Staggers has begun working out for the first time after a shoulder separation sidelined him four weeks ago. However, Staggers is only a "remote possibility" to see action against OSU.

O-State coach Phil Cutchin

reminded his team that it hasn't scored on Missouri since 1964 when it beat the Tigers, 10-7, in Columbia. The Tigers have won all but two of the previous 13 contests.

KICKOFF: 1:30 p.m. at Lewis Stadium, Stillwater; EXPECTED ATTENDANCE: 30,000; OFFENSIVE FORMATIONS: Oklahoma State — Slot, both I and regular; Missouri — Wing T, unbalanced line; MISSOURI HEADQUARTERS: Student Union, Stillwater. SERIES RECORD: Missouri won 11, Oklahoma State 2, no ties.

Parrish Asking Players To Join

CLEVELAND (AP) — Bernie Parrish, a former defensive back with the Cleveland Browns, is asking National Football League players to join in organizing a union which would be affiliated with the teamsters.

Parrish said Thursday night he is sending to all NFL players a copy of a 16-page document attacking NFL owners and the NFL Players Association and proposing formation of a union to be called the American Federation of Professional Athletes.

Wyoming's freshman football team includes a 240-pounder, Dan Richards of East Detroit, Mich.

Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: My mother used to say, "Always wear nice underwear. You never can tell when you'll get into an accident." I thought that was pretty funny. Yesterday I stopped laughing.

A college friend and I went bike riding. We are experienced cyclists and neither of us had ever had an accident. Della's bike suddenly hit a hole in the cement. She went sailing head first and landed in a clump of bushes. Fortunately, a squad car was within 100 feet of us and the police officers rushed her to the hospital. Of course I went along.

The first thing the doctor did was cut off Della's blouse and slacks. Soon she regained consciousness and called me by name. Although she was in pain she seemed much more concerned about her underwear than her injuries. And well she might have been. I never saw such a filthy brassiere—torn and faded—and her pantie girdle was in even worse condition.

Luckily she suffered only a broken and a dislocated hip, but she told me later that her embarrassment over her underwear was more painful than her injuries.

I learned a lesson at Della's expense, Ann. Maybe others can profit by it as I have. — NEAT ALL THE WAY THROUGH

Dear Neat: Thank you for sharing. O.K. girls, take a fast reading. Are you wearing undies you wouldn't mind modeling in an emergency room? How's the lace on your slip? Is your girdle a wee mite shredded? Did you hurriedly pin that busted bra strap this morning instead of sew it on? Upgrade your underwear, Sisters. You never know.

Dear Ann Landers: My next door neighbor has read every word you have ever written. Before you get to feeling flattered let me tell you that the idea behind this is to catch you in a mistake. She checks out every fact, gets on the phone and calls the newspaper, the public library, legal aid, welfare agencies, clinics, veterinarians, doctors, clergymen, police, firemen, the post office—anybody she can pump for information.

I would judge that this nut spends anywhere from two to three hours a day trying to trip you up. She thought she had you the day you said a pregnant WAC is not kicked out of the service and dishonorably discharged. Her face fell a foot when she was told by the recruiting office here, "Ann is right. Pregnant Wacs are simply separated from the service."

This woman used to be the town's worst meddler and most vicious troublemaker. Since she has made you her hobby she hasn't had time for troublemaking and gossip. So thank you. — RCO

Dear RCO: I am delighted that I am providing a harmless outlet for the woman's energies. If she catches a mistake, I'd be delighted to hear from her.

Confidential to Plenty Suspicious: Just because a man wants to smell good doesn't mean he has another dame some place. Good grief, Woman, get off his back or he might make good your goofy accusations.

Keep State Out

Religious Training Is Creating Wide Dissent

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A new religion course in Pennsylvania classrooms, proposed "prayer amendments" in Congress, shared time, dispute over education of Amish children, a score of lawsuits regarding parochial schools.

These and numerous other developments indicated the widespread ferment today about two often colliding public concerns:

To provide religious training for the young.

To keep that task out of the hands of the state.

With government-run public schools increasingly stripped of religious content and with church schools hard put to survive financially without state help, parents of children in both types of schools felt the problem.

And in scattered cases, inventive approaches were being tried to solve it.

But it also brought on a rash of skirmishing, in legislatures, constitutional conventions and courts, between those favoring a share of tax aid for pupils in church schools and those opposing any such aid.

The issue also had its ironic twists.

For example, some Protestants objecting to the elimination of religious devotions from public school classrooms were among those most keenly opposed to aid to parochial education which included religion.

They took opposite sides on similar situations, both of which involved linking the state with religious activities.

It was a complicated scramble.

In a report of a national survey last week, the American Jewish Congress reported 16 pending lawsuits in eight states challenging the use of federal or state funds for children in church-connected schools.

At the same time, a flock of proposed constitutional changes involving religion are pending in Congress—many of which would allow for prayer periods in public school classrooms.

This has been a recurrent—but unsuccessful—proposal ever since the U.S. Supreme Court in its 1962-63 session outlawed officially sponsored prayers or Bible devotions by state-run schools.

Checks indicate, however, that such observances continue in many schools, particularly in the South. Many evangelical groups strongly opposing aid to parochial schools favor these observances in public schools.

However, the ban has been supported by major Protestant and Jewish bodies.

Amid the tussling to keep the state religiously neutral, but also to make religion a part of education, several enterprising projects to accomplish that double purpose were developing.

In Swanton, Vt., townspeople have voted approval of a plan by the churches to set up an ecumenical center adjacent to the public school to offer religion courses on an elective basis to public school pupils.

In Pennsylvania, school officials have begun introducing an experimental new course in religious literature to provide learning about religion in public schools—but not to put worship back into the classroom.

The Supreme Court, in banning the Bible and prayer devotionals, had approved public school courses about religion and the Bible.

As a start the Pennsylvania program was inaugurated last month in 31 school districts. Its director, John R. Whitney, instructor in religious studies at Pennsylvania State University, says of it: "Our intent is to present the classical writings of Judaism, Christianity and Islam as rich experiences in reading and literature."

Each school district has the option of using the program on an elective basis. The curriculum for it, currently dealing with Western religious literature, was developed by experts, with teachers given special training for teaching it.

"Shared time"—in which parochial pupils take some courses in public schools—also is spreading to numerous communities. But other situations caused friction.

Among lawsuits cited in the survey:

Six cases—three in Pennsylvania, two in New York and one in Ohio—challenged the Federal Education Act of 1965, supporting library facilities, remedial services, textbook loans and cultural programs both for parochial and public pupils.

The Supreme Court has agreed to take up the question.

Seven cases—in Illinois, Hawaii, Michigan, New Jersey, Ohio and two in Pennsylvania—attacking use of public funds to provide bus transportation for parochial pupils. Eighteen states provide such service.

Two cases—in New York and Rhode Island—opposing use of state funds to supply textbooks to parochial students. Another case was listed in Michigan as involving services by a public teacher in church schools.

Besides the lawsuits, several state constitutional conventions in Florida, Maryland and elsewhere were considering changes to allow state aid to parochial pupils, a controversial issue before New York State voters Nov. 7.

The Supreme Court declined last week to rule on a prolonged dispute between Amish parents and state laws requiring them to send their children to school after the eighth grade.

There are Amish settlements in 19 states, with members opposed to state education beyond the eighth grade. Many states require attendance to age 15 or 16. In some past instances, Amish fathers have gone to jail rather than comply.

Democrats To Sever All Ties

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Capping years of behind-the-scenes friction, House Democrats have decided to sever major financial ties with the Democratic National Committee and set up a separate committee to solicit funds for 1968 congressional elections.

This means Democrats will mount two separate national fund-raising drives for next year's elections—one to finance President Johnson's expected re-election bid and the other in behalf of congressional candidates.

The new group, to be known as the Democratic Congressional Finance Committee, will operate year-round and seek funds nationwide, especially from individuals and groups with what one source called "a peculiar interest" in Congress.

The decision to establish the new committee, The Associated Press learned, was made last month in a closed meeting of the House Democratic Campaign Committee and discussed in a later session with national committee officials.

Although some congressmen reportedly plan to shun identification with Johnson in next year's campaign, officials of the White House-controlled national committee denied the new development indicates deteriorating relations between Capitol Hill and the White House.

"It just indicates a fact of life," said John Criswell, the national committee's acting treasurer. "The House Democrats need to be better financed and this is just a way to do it."

Democratic National Chairman John Bailey said the decision of House Democrats means only that "they decided they would raise their own money."

About eight years ago, the national committee and the House and Senate campaign committees agreed the national committee would handle all fund-raising.

Under the arrangement, the national committee was to supply each congressional committee with $10,000 a month operating cash, plus lump sum payments totaling more than a half-million dollars a year to be distributed to candidates.

Increase Benefits To Elderly

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to increase Social Security benefits and taxes by a minimum of 15 per cent has passed the Senate Finance Committee in nearly the form called for by President Johnson.

The administration bill entails a much higher percentage increase in the lowest brackets—the minimum monthly payment would be raised from $44 to $70—then the House version passed in August.

The House bill included a 12½ per cent across-the-board increase with a $50 minimum. Any difference between the two final versions will have to be settled in a compromise by a House-Senate conference.

As they now stand the two versions also differ in the amount of increase in the payroll tax—matched by the employer—and the wage base against which the tax is levied. The Senate panel voted to raise the individual tax to 4.8 per cent next year compared to 4.4 per cent now. The House voted to begin the higher rate in 1969. The House also voted to raise the wage base to $7,600 in 1968, compared to $6,600 this year.

Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., of the Senate panel, said it probably will settle on a $7,800 base next year as proposed by the administration.

Such a base would mean a maximum 1968 levy of $374.40. The highest levy this year is $290.40.

Column Invades Katanga

Mercenaries Come In From Angola Area

KINSHASA, the Congo (AP) — A column of white mercenaries and black soldiers, invading from Portuguese Angola, has raced across the southeast Congo and is bearing down on the capital of copper-rich Katanga Province, government sources said Thursday.

The column, which was said to have crossed the border Wednesday, was reported within 100 miles of Lubumbashi, formerly Elisabethville, the Katanga capital. This would place the invaders inside the province.

The number and purpose of the invaders were not clear. Some observers believed the invasion was intended to relieve pressure on rebellious white mercenaries and Katanga soldiers surrounded by government units at Bukavu, more than 600 miles north of Lubumbashi.

About 22,400 of the Congo's 30,000-man army have been reported centered around Bukavu, a provincial capital near the eastern border. Government sources said all troops in the area of Lubumbashi, have been ordered to cut off the new mercenary column.

The sources said the invaders crossed the border Wednesday, stole a number of trucks, drove 60 miles east and captured a train. The report indicated that the mercenaries, moving along a 400-mile rail line from the border to Lubumbashi, had already passed Kolwezi, a copper-mine center and capital of Lualaba Province.

Mercenaries in the employ of President Joseph D. Mobutu's government revolted last July after Moise Tshombe, exiled former Congo premier and Katanga leader, was kidnapped and taken to Algeria while on a flight over the Mediterranean.

After bloody fighting, about 130 mercenaries led by Col. Jean Schramme and 950 Katangan allies dug in at Bukavu to await the outcome of efforts by the International Red Cross to arrange their evacuation. The Congolese government has not replied to the Red Cross' request for a cease-fire so that the rebels could be flown out.

Two-Year-Old Dies In Wreck
SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — A two-year-old boy, John Smith, died in a Springfield hospital Tuesday night of injuries suffered in a two-car collision that killed his mother and three of his sisters.

The highway patrol identified those killed in the crash as Mrs. Agnes Smith and her children, Sylvia Irene, 7; Kathryn Dianna, 4, and Melissa Ann, 1. Another daughter, Rosemary Smith, 10, was injured in the accident. All were from Raymondville, the driver of the other car.

The patrol said the two cars met head-on on a Texas County road about a half mile east of Raymondville.

Two other Smith children were in school when the accident occurred.

Wettest Month
BERMUDA (AP) — During a five-hour period Oct. 29, tropical storms dumped 7.39 inches of rain on Bermuda. It made October the wettest month in the island's history with 18.32 inches of rain.

Rocket Launch Delayed

Cape Kennedy—The unmanned test flight of the Saturn 5 moon rocket, framed in this photo by piping at the launch complex, originally slated for Nov. 7, will be delayed "at least 24 hours," according to word from the U.S. Space Agency Thursday. The delay, which was attributed to lagging launch preparations, has cleared the way for the launch of the Surveyor 6 moon landing robot spacecraft Nov. 7. A new target date was expected to be set later today. (UPI)

Chrysler Strike Date Set

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union said Thursday it will strike Chrysler Corp. next Wednesday if no contract is reached by then with the nation's third-biggest automaker.

The UAW, in its 57th day of a strike against Ford Motor Co., said the union president, Walter P. Reuther, will join Chrysler negotiations Saturday afternoon in the drive to reach a settlement.

Ford, second-biggest U.S. auto builder, remained out of production because local-level contract disputes remain unsettled at about a dozen Ford plants.

The company, which estimated it lost $74 million in the third quarter due to the strike by 160,000 workers in the UAW, said Thursday it could resume production if local agreements could be reached at three union bargaining units in Ohio.

A Ford spokesman said the units included two engine plants and foundry operations in Cleveland, a stamping plant in Cleveland and two automatic transmission plants in the Cincinnati area.

Local agreements have been reached at enough assembly plants to allow processing of

On Pay Scale

Grant Sedalia Police Department Increase

The Sedalia City Council Wednesday night granted the Sedalia Police Department a salary increase that would raise the department to the salary level of the fire department. The Council also discussed the proposed widening of U.S. Highway 65 from Ninth Street to the southern city limits.

The salary increase for the police raised the salaries for class "A" patrolmen from $355 to $376 per month. Sergeants in the department were granted an increase from $385 to $403 per month. The departments one lieutenant will receive an increase to $425 from $410 per month. Assistant Chief Charles Knapp was granted a raise from $455 to $481, and Chief William Miller was given a token increase of $1 per month.

Only one resident along the Highway 65 objected to the proposed widening at the meeting. W. H. Dill, district highway engineer, attended the meeting to discuss the project with those who live along Highway 65.

Under the plan, Highway 65

In Waterfront Store

Unravel Weird Tale Of Druggings, Murder

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A weird tale of young college men being drugged in a waterfront store, before being dumped elsewhere emerged Thursday in the strangulation of a University of Pennsylvania freshman.

Police charged Stephen Weinstein, 35-year-old tobacco shop owner, with the murder of the student, John Walker Green 3d, of Des Moines, Iowa. A search for Weinstein, missing since Tuesday, was under way.

Green's body was found stuffed in a trunk floating in the Delaware River Tuesday.

Authorities said he was drugged and sexually abused before he was strangled. An autopsy showed the 18-year-old youth's body bore bites and other marks, and he was given some kind of a knockout drug.

On Thursday police charged two teenaged boys with being accessories after the fact of murder. A third youth was being questioned.

Police quoted two boys as saying each was paid $20 to help get rid of the body.

Investigators said five Penn students have told of being given knockout drops or drugged while at the tobacco shop, later waking up unaware of what had happened.

Grant Sedalia Police Department Increase

The Sedalia City Council Wednesday night granted the Sedalia Police Department a salary increase that would raise the department to the salary level of the fire department. The Council also discussed the proposed widening of U.S. Highway 65 from Ninth Street to the southern city limits.

The salary increase for the police raised the salaries for class "A" patrolmen from $355 to $376 per month. Sergeants in the department were granted an increase from $385 to $403 per month. The departments one lieutenant will receive an increase to $425 from $410 per month. Assistant Chief Charles Knapp was granted a raise from $455 to $481, and Chief William Miller was given a token increase of $1 per month.

Only one resident along the Highway 65 objected to the proposed widening at the meeting. W. H. Dill, district highway engineer, attended the meeting to discuss the project with those who live along Highway 65.

Under the plan, Highway 65

would be widened from Ninth Street to the southern city limits with a median strip at 16th and a median strip and traffic light at 32nd.

Members of the council told Dill that they felt the Highway department had been "lax" on their job concerning the project. The plan has been in the preliminary stages for the past six or seven months.

Dill told the Council that the Highway department would start work on the project immediately.

The resignation of Jerry Jones, third ward councilman who moved to the fourth ward recently also came under discussion at the meeting.

Mayor Ralph Walker said Wednesday that he was considering appointing a new councilman for the third ward, but under state statutes a special election would be required. Since Jones term has only five months left before elections in April, the special election would not be held and the city would be spared the cost of holding the special election.

Charged with being accessories were James Hammell, 14, and Vincent Myers, 16, both Philadelphia schoolboys.

Police quoted Hammell and Myers as saying in a signed statement they were paid $20 each to help get rid of Green's body.

Police also quoted Hammell and Myers as saying they had taken other drugged students from the riverfront tobacco shop back to the Penn campus, some five miles away, and dumping them there.

Detectives said Hammell and Myers also told of helping take Green's body in the trunk for burial in a rural area near Reading, Pa., 35 miles north-west of Philadelphia. Finding the ground too hard, however, they said they returned with the trunk to Philadelphia. After shoveling some dirt and stones into it for weight, the trunk was thrown into the Delaware River, police quoted them. It sank momentarily, they said, but then bobbed to the surface.

Two workers eating their lunch on a pier Tuesday saw the trunk and pulled it out. Inside was Green's body, stuffed into a sleeping bag.

Green, missing since Oct. 22, left his dormitory then, telling fellow students he was going to buy a pipe.

Green was a chemistry major, highly thought of by friends and superiors. Associates at Lincoln High School in Des Moines, which he attended, said he was "a real nice guy," "one of my most dependable boys" and "the kind who would really help old ladies across the street."

His father, a Des Moines physician, and mother flew here after Green was reported missing. They returned home last Monday.

The youth's body was cremated and flown Thursday to Des Moines, where a memorial service is set for 3 p.m. Saturday.

Weinstein, single, lives in an apartment over his parents' grocery store. They have refused to make any statements about him.

Weinstein often told friends he once was a theatrical agent. He operated a tobacco shop near the campus and another in a reconstructed colonial village on the waterfront.

Saves Two Men
LUANDA (AP) — A 12-year-old Angolan boy is credited with saving two grown men by leaping Tarzan-style on the back of a marauding lion and killing the beast with a hatchet. The men were mauled and clawed after they attacked the lion in a village cattle corral. The boy was uninjured.

Large Enemy Assault Is Beaten Back Again

Propaganda Victory Again Eludes Cong

SAIGON (AP) — Red commanders sacrificed platoon after platoon of Viet Cong troops Thursday in their fourth futile effort of the week to seize Loc Ninh, a district headquarters town 72 miles north of Saigon. It looked like military madness.

U.S. and South Vietnamese soldiers beat back a massive enemy assault force in a 20-minute battle before dawn with the help of artillery and air power, following the pattern they set last Sunday. Random shooting followed for nearly five hours.

Field dispatches said 463 of the Communists were killed.

If true that would mean 832 Viet Cong have died in the offensive that American officers consider is motivated primarily by the enemy's hunger for a propaganda victory to offset South Vietnam's return to constitutional government.

Losses among the allies, dug in behind barbed wire barricades, were reported to be one American and five South Vietnamese killed; 11 Americans and 10 South Vietnamese wounded. Spokesmen said that brought allied totals there through the week to 35 killed and 106 wounded.

The Communists took the initiative in two other actions:

—Viet Cong raiders killed seven civilians, wounded 10 and burned more than 300 homes at Dai Loc, a district hamlet midway between American coastal bases at Da Nang and Chu Lai. They pinned down South Vietnamese troops at a nearby compound and shelled positions at two U.S. Marine positions six miles southwest of Dai Loc. Unofficial reports said nine Marines were killed and 14 wounded.

—Communist troops attacked units of the 3rd Marine regiment about two miles south of the Leatherneck post at Con Thien, just below the demilitarized zone. Pounded heavily by U.S. artillery, they finally pulled back after a four-hour fight. American spokesmen said

Power Disrupted In Area Towns
WARRENSBURG, Mo. (AP) — Electrical power was disrupted in Warrensburg and several other communities Thursday.

Service was out in all of Warrensburg for about 20 minutes and up to 15 minutes in other places.

Cities affected are served by the Missouri Public Service Co. They included Knob Noster, La Monte, Centerville and Holden. The company also sells power to the West Central Electric Co-operative Inc., Higginsville, and the latter's service to substations near Monterrat and Holden also was cut off.

A Missouri Public Service spokesman said the outage occurred when a bird or an animal came in contact with a transformer buss in a Warrensburg sub-station.

There also was a brief disruption of telephone service.

Nicaraguan Help
MANAGUA (AP) — A group of Nicaraguan military officers has offered to go to Vietnam and train South Vietnamese forces in counterinsurgency. President Anastasio Somoza announced his government is discussing the offer with the allies. He said the experience would help the officers combat subversion at home.

Revamp Is Half Complete

To Bring In State Dollars At Less Cost

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Gov. Warren E. Hearnes reported Thursday reorganization of the State Department of Revenue is more than 50 per cent completed and is moving faster than expected.

The goal is to bring in every dollar owed the state at less cost.

A consultant who prepared the plan estimated $6 million more a year could be obtained by tightening up sales collections alone, with proportionate increases in other taxes.

The governor noted a management staff has been provided to coordinate administration of sales, income and other tax units which formerly operated almost independently. This is intended to centralize budgeting, purchasing, accounting and personnel and avoid duplication.

Previously 11 persons made trips to the postoffice daily. Under a centralized mail service one man goes now.

Under the new system, the governor said, delays of as much as 30 days in processing remittances have been eliminated and tax payments can be deposited quickly in the state treasury.

Efforts also are being made to tighten up auditing procedures so one auditor can check all the taxes for which a business is liable. Such audits, including cross checking with federal income tax returns, "has revealed tax liability not previously discovered."

The governor noted an in-service training program has been started, including an internship program in cooperation with the University of Missouri. Efforts also are being made to credit some work in the department on requirements to become a certified public accountant.

At the same time, he said, higher qualifications are being sought for new employees.

Hearnes emphasized he was reporting only preliminary steps and said the complete reorganization will take a long time.

In Third Quarter

Industrial Profits Show Wide Variance

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's major industries have reported widely varying third quarter profits with big gains in airlines and oil and big dips in steel, copper, rubber and at one major auto builder.

A glance at the keystone auto industry shows the mixed nature of the reports.

While General Motors Corp. and Chrysler Corp. were telling of increased sales and earnings for the three months ended Sept. 30, the other member of the automotive Big Three, Ford Motor Co., reported a multimillion dollar loss.

Ford blamed its net loss of $73.9 million in the July-August-September period on a strike by the United Auto Workers union that had idled the company's production lines since Sept. 6. The loss was Ford's biggest since it became publicly owned in 1956. GM reported third quarter income of $149 million, compared with $100 million one year earlier, up 49.5 per cent. Chrysler had income of $26.8 million, compared with $6.5 million, up 312.3 per cent.

The two-month steel haulers strike, lower steel consumption, customer liquidation of inventories and rising costs were among the reasons cited by the steel industry for its disappointing third quarter.

U.S. Steel Corp., the nation's No. 1 steelmaker, said its profits for the period were off more than 40 per cent from a year earlier—$36.2 million against $61.635.150.

Bethlehem Steel Corp., No. 2, reported a drop of about 50 per cent in income for the three months. It said it had $23.158.000 this year against $46.196.000 in 1966. Republic Steel was down 32.6 per cent, and Jones & Laughlin was off 58 per cent.

Fourth-ranked National Steel was the only one of the industry's top five to show an increase. It said it was up 11 per cent.

The copper industry also blamed a strike for the beating its income took in the quarter.

The industry has been strike-bound since July 15 and even if the stoppage ended immediately it still would take at least a month to get things running normally again.

Kennecott Copper Corp., the nation's top copper producer, said its third quarter income fell to $4,173,265, or 12 cents a share, from $32,952,000, or 99 cents a share, a year earlier when there was no strike.

And a 39.2 per cent dip in the three-month earnings of nine rubber companies was blamed on a strike which idled the three largest until mid-July.

A strike also affected airlines earnings—but in another way.

Five airlines reported third quarter profits this year that were almost triple of those of a year earlier. But the reason for the big advance was that four of the five reporting were grounded for most of the 1966 period by a mechanics strike.

United Air Lines, for example, reported income of $30,896,000 this third quarter, compared with $2,017,000 for the 1966 period. But American Airlines, the only line that kept flying during the strike, reported earnings this quarter of

Across the Last Threshold

The older a person becomes the more poignantly affected he is by the death of friends and how inevitably the span of life runs out at crossing of the last threshold.

Another prominent citizen is gone. George H. Trader's life ended in Sedalia where he was born and where he spent the greater part of 90 years. During that time he was identified with managerial functions of Swift and Company and the Sedalia Democrat Co. He had the penetrating faculty of recognizing the potential ability of young men in his employe and deftly encouraging and training them for higher positions of authority.

Mr. Trader was a sturdy and resolute person not given to temporizing on subjects which required decisive attention. Those who had on occasion heard him "speak his piece," will vouchsafe this.

His natural ability as a leader went beyond his business interests. He found time to participate in civic, church and fraternal groups which delegated him authoritative positions. Because of his keenness of perception in practical matters his advice was sought interminably by others. And he gave it willingly.

May we relate here a personal episode? When I was 5 and Mr. Trader was 25 he was a visitor in our home, 310 West Tenth street, the winter of 1902. By my rasping cough, it came to his attention that I was very ill with what they called croup, a spasmodic laryngitis characterized by episodes of very difficult breathing. Prevailing medication didn't seem to be working so young Mr. Trader said he'd get it fixed. In the cold evening he walked downtown to 420 South Ohio avenue, the office of his father, Dr. John W. Trader, an eminent medical doctor and surgeon. After George Trader had my parents dose me with Dr. John's prescription, I soon got well. And I haven't had the recurrence of croup for 65 years.

Then another incident in the life of the two George's was his partial responsibility for bringing me back from Pennsylvania to Sedalia 30 years ago to become editor of the Sedalia Democrat.

—O—

No doubt dozens of others have had intimate social and business experiences with a man who had acute business acumen, became a forceful leader, and a friend whom they will never forget.

THE GLOBAL VIEW

Russians Are Going to 'Pot' To Escape Life's Realities

By LEON DENNEN
NEA Foreign News Analyst

NEW YORK—(NEA)

It is not only in affluent Western society that the widespread use of marijuana and other narcotic drugs by the young has become a serious social problem.

Youngsters in the Communist countries, especially in Russia, are increasingly resorting to drugs in an effort to escape from reality and find euphoria.

But unlike their counterparts in capitalist America, the potters of Communist Russia are in for a cool time of curtailment. In the Marxist-Leninist society there are as yet no medical scientists, psychiatrists and intellectuals to champion the right of the young to seek euphoria through marijuana.

The Communist leaders are clearly alarmed by the emergence of this "capitalist phenomenon" 50 years after Lenin proclaimed the birth of a "new Soviet man."

Thus the Soviet Supreme Court, in a recent decision, reaffirmed that the production and distribution of narcotic, spasm-producing and toxic substances was a criminal offense. It called upon lower courts to intensify the struggle against "crimes threatening the life and health of citizens."

Soviet medical scientists and psychiatrists, it seems, agree with Dr. Joel Fort, former drug consultant for the World Health Organization, that excessive use of marijuana could lead to violent behavior, sexual promiscuity and even criminal activity.

This, of course, is a grave danger for a regimented Marxist-Leninist society where every conscious act or thought of the citizen must always be under the rigid control of the state and the Communist party.

The main stress of the Supreme Court's decree is therefore directed at users and dealers of illegal narcotics and "the particular danger these persons present to society."

We know who the users of marijuana are. But who are the dealers? Ironically, it is the "socialist" collective farms in search of a fast buck.

Marijuana comes from the hemp plant "Cannabis sativa" which, unlike Soviet corn, grows luxuriantly in Russia, particularly in the northwest. The source of Russia's hard narcotics—heroin and morphine—is Red China. Since the conflict between Moscow and Peking, hard narcotics have become scarce. But the very profusion of the hemp plant makes for an easy source of supply of marijuana.

However, hemp, like vodka, comes in different qualities. The best marijuana comes from the cultivated variety of hemp, not the wild steppe type.

Thus, the sources of the best pot—the plant of dissent and symbol of revolt that gives the Communist rulers sleepless nights—lies in the hands of the collective farms.

Whether the use of marijuana is as widespread in Russia as in some cities of the United States is not clearly established from Soviet sources.

But the timing of the Supreme Court decision, and the context of the document, obviously reflects the Kremlin's concern over the increase in the use of marijuana and the need for further legal restraints in the production and the distribution of the more readily available forms of narcotics.

If the current pot craze becomes the fashion in Russia and other Communist countries, it would not be the only phenomenon of culture shock imported from the West.

Ordinary Brown Mole No Threat to Health

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—What is the best treatment for congestion in the nostrils after having the flu? I have a continual postnasal drip.

A—Although upper respiratory infections are a common cause of nasal congestion other factors, such as the normal spontaneous opening and closing or partial closing of alternate sides of the nose, must be considered. Such decongestants as Afrin, Otrivin and Privine (obtainable only on a doctor's prescription) all give temporary relief but when used too often or for too long they lose their effectiveness. When you are excited or keenly intent on what you are doing your breathing is improved, even when you have a cold. This makes it hard to evaluate the benefits of these decongestants.

Q—For the past two years I have had a red nose. I don't use alcohol or coffee. What causes it and what would you suggest for it?

A—The commonest cause of a red nose is cirrhosis of the liver. Although cirrhosis may be due to excessive use of alcohol this is by no means the only cause. A red nose may also occur as a hereditary trait or for no discoverable reason. I know of no treatment beyond a liberal application of face powder.

Q—What causes a person to have phlegm in the throat every morning? How can I get rid of it?

A—This is known as post-nasal drip and is caused by a chronic sinusitis or an allergy. If your doctor can discover the cause he should be able to prescribe an appropriate treatment.

Q—I have a large mole on my left cheek. Lately it has become sore and swollen. How do you tell whether it is malignant?

A—A malignant lesion has a stony hardness. Your doctor can usually tell whether a mole is cancerous and, if there is any doubt, it should be removed and examined under a microscope.

The greatest value of a part score is its effect on your opponents. With 60 on score you can bid to two hearts or two spades and put tremendous pressure on the enemy. Most of the time they should pass and let you go out, but rubber bridge players aren't built that way and are very likely to compete.

South was one of those gallant defenders. He knew that the roof was likely to fall in on him if he bid, but he wasn't going to give up a rubber when he could defend.

His two no-trump call was an effort to get his partner to try a minor suit. North passed, East doubled and South ran out to three clubs. East doubled this also, but South decided he had found his best spot and passed.

West opened the eight of diamonds. Dummy and East played low and South won with the nine. He cashed dummy's ace and king of clubs and led the queen of diamonds. East took his ace, played his king and queen of spades and led the jack of clubs. South took his queen and made the brilliant play of his last spade. West led a heart to his partner's ace. East drew the last trump and led back a heart, but South made the last three tricks with dummy's king of hearts and his king-ten of diamonds.

East was the first to speak. "Why did I cash my second spade? If I had only held it back, I would have set South 700 instead of 300."

East's analysis was correct. He had let South escape with only a small loss but East had no cause to be unduly disturbed. South's 300 point save was a cheap one, but it wasn't any great bargain because East and West still had their 60 point part score to worry North and South on the next hand.

Home Violence Sickening Sight

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — This country is going through a kind of convulsion over the war although all American wars spawned unhappy and gloomy critics when they began to bog down, like this one.

Some of the public disagreement over the Vietnam war can be blamed perhaps for some of this year's lazy performance in Congress where the war has consumed much of the time, thinking and talking.

President Johnson, in a hastily called news conference Thursday, once again complained about the slow pace in Congress, which is good evidence he has lost his political mastery over the men in the Capitol. But Congress, like Johnson, has also been watching a sickening sight at home — growing violence — which may have taken a lot of the salt out of both of them.

There was nothing to match the present violence and protests in America's last war, in Korea. More and more the question is being asked: Why now?

The origin probably has its roots in the last 10 years, on a road that began in the 1950s, when young white people from the North went South to help Negroes wipe out segregation. Some were beaten, some were jailed, some were killed.

But they had justice on their side in the Supreme Court's 1954 decision outlawing school segregation. They varied their tactics in testing the segregation laws still in effect, as they rode segregated buses, engaged in sit-ins, and so on.

This was direct action by the young people of both races and it paid off as the racial barriers began to crumble. All this helped give American youth a sense of being able to shape events by directly taking part in them.

The Rev. Martin Luther King's peaceful marches were an extension of this form of protest on a vast scale. But achievement through protest carries with it a sense of power.

The search for power grew and, as could have been expected, took new turns. For instance, on college campuses youths began to assert themselves against college authority but claimed what they sought was justice in one form or another.

No longer were the issues as clear cut as they were in protests against injustice to Negroes. No doubt often, if not most of the time, the college youths' protests were not against injustice but had a root in personal problems.

For instance, the youth who felt frustrated, undistinguished, or ignored. As the idea of protests and participation in them grew, frustrated young people could feel freer to take part in them.

For many of them the shouting, capering and defiance of college authority may have been the frantic, pitiful cry for recognition by classmates, for some identity of their own, a deep-seated protest against parental authority or authority in general.

This seems like a reasonable explanation since so many of the campus protests have been brainless. Then came the two Negro extremists, Stokely Carmichael and H. Rap Brown. They didn't have thoughtful plans or programs.

Their chief weapon was the big mouth, shouting "Black Power" and calling for violence. They found a responsive audience among Negroes who felt frustrated by their dilapidated economic condition and by white indifference.

This also opened the door for Negro criminals who were just waiting for a chance or an excuse to perform. Increasingly Negro riots spread across the country.

As it turned out, these riots were mostly temper tantrums on a vast scale. The slum Negroes did not make war on white — although that may be next in line — but concentrated on destroying their own area in a city.

Meanwhile more and more members of Congress added to the national confusion about the war — since most of them in 1964 had approved Johnson's waging it if he thought necessary — by criticizing the government's handling of it.

Much of this no doubt is the result of deep reflection. Some of it probably has its roots in political expedience since a lot of the voters back home are unhappy with the war.

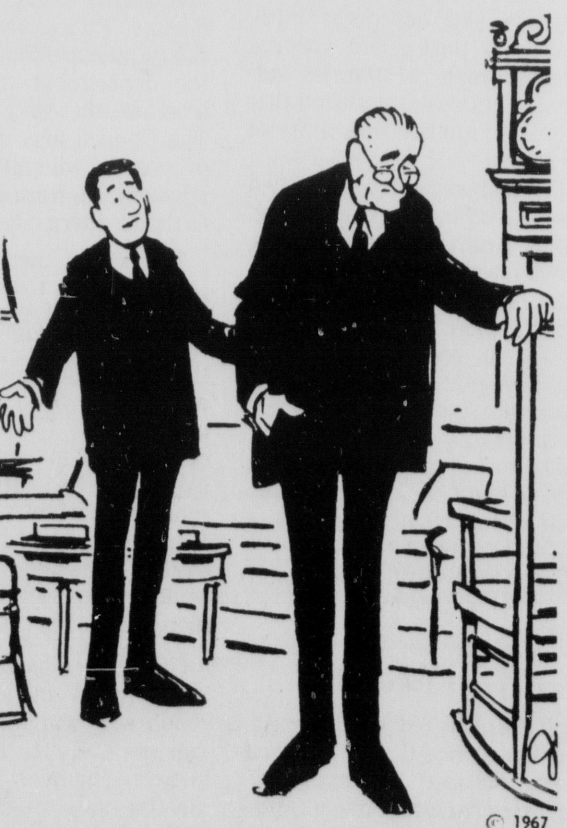

On top of all this America's so-called intellectuals have teamed up against the war. Some of them by intellectual processes may have arrived at logical reasons for being critical.

Some of them are probably joining the chorus because they think it is the intellectually stylish thing to do and fear the condemnation of their colleagues if they say otherwise.

Seeing their professors critical of government is an encouragement to students to be critical of school government and eventually national government. This is not to say many thousands of American dissenters about the war are not sincere.

Thousands marched peacefully on the Pentagon last month to protest the war. Then a comparatively small group resorted to violence and talked of shutting down the Pentagon. These are the truly brainless in American life. And they will almost certainly be heard from again.

Signs of Dip in Viet Cong Morale

By DREW PEARSON AND JACK ANDERSON
WASHINGTON — A confidential report to Secretary of State Rush from Saigon, based largely upon captured documents, has come up with this hopeful but cautious conclusion: "We believe the tide has turned and the enemy strength is on the decline."

Nevertheless, the report warns: "We see no evidence that the enemy has any serious intent to negotiate on terms acceptable to us. There has been some talk of using negotiations as a means of gaining time in which to rebuild his forces."

The fighting in the South, the report states, is becoming "More and more a North Vietnamese war." The latest estimate is that "there are at least 55,000 North Vietnamese in the country with substantial numbers being infiltrated each month."

The report also describes "mounting evidence that the southern-born enemy is rapidly losing heart for the war. Once the enemy was able to recruit about 7,000 men per month from the population. Now we believe fewer than 3,500 are recruited; and many of these are boys 14 and 15 years of age. Women are also being recruited where possible in order to release more men to combat."

"There is evidence of faltering morale and discipline among the southern enemy—the true Viet Cong. There are fewer but significant signs that the northern invader is likewise weakening."

The report cited extracts from captured diaries and letters. One North Vietnamese soldier confided to his diary: "As we go to the South, we are told that we are going to liberate the South, that we will be welcomed, and that we will fight the Americans. But when we arrive, we are not greeted as liberators. When we enter villages, the people ask us to leave. I begin to feel like a leper."

One soldier wrote his parents a letter that was never delivered, declaring: "Today I am in the innermost recesses of a forest in the western highlands. Here I live a life without joy, and sometimes I feel like a dead man. We are waiting for the time to fight, but I have received some bad news. A number of my comrades were killed in battle. I think the same fate is awaiting me."

Some of the conditions described in the captured papers are so horrible that intelligence officers find them hard to believe and attribute them to the stark depression of demoralized men.

"To understand the true significance of the enemy's situation," explains the confidential report to Rusk, "you must realize that the war has taken a subtle but dramatic change over the last few months. The enemy is now steadily losing control of the populated areas. And as in any insurgency, when you begin to lose control of the people, you are beginning to lose the war."

"The enemy's problem then is how to reverse this population loss. He can go on doing what he has been, but this will surely lead to defeat since each day he grows weaker while we grow stronger."

"He can make a last ditch try using all or a part of his remaining forces in North Vietnam. Should he do so, the battle would be difficult but the outcome would certainly be his total defeat."

"He could ask for volunteers from China, Russia and other bloc countries, but there is no evidence that either China or Russia is willing to engage us in a ground war."

Out of the steaming jungles, where American troops have been grappling with an elusive and treacherous enemy, have come the first signs perhaps of a still-distant victory.

—Air Pollution Debate—

The clean-air bill to curb exhaust fumes comes up for debate in the House of Representatives, featuring a battle between Rep. John Dingell, the Detroit Democrat, a disciple of the automobile industry, and Rep. Edward R. Roybal, Los Angeles Democrat, a battler against smog in southern California.

Dingell, who has an altruistic record on most matters, wants to nullify an amendment introduced by Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., and adopted by the Senate, 88 to 0, permitting California to impose stricter standards on automobiles for curbing exhaust fumes than those fixed by the federal government. Murphy and Roybal argue that California is several years ahead of Washington in curbing automobile exhaust.

California, say the West Coast congressmen, has no objection to seeing the federal government set standards, but it doesn't want to be held back by those standards.

The man who has masterminded Congressman Dingell's lobbying move is Lloyd Cutler, attorney for the auto industry and one of the smartest lawyers in Washington. Cutler is adroit at pulling wires, but he has sometimes pulled too hard and in the wrong places.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR: Higher Law.—Few things grate on the average citizen more than to see legalism triumph over good sense. Thus many a Canadian and American will read with indignation how Albert Romeo's good deed cost him $50. This was the fine he paid for having kept at his home and nursed to health an injured fawn. For the judge, while commending the Alberta farmer's kindness, found him guilty of violating a provincial act forbidding the handling, possessing, or keeping in captivity of any wild animal.

We do not doubt for a moment that the act is a wise one and is designed to cover a multitude of possible offenses. But we must ask if, in this instance, a deeper wisdom did not dictate Mr. Romeo's technical violation of its provisions. Surely the parable of the Good Samaritan has legal standing in the courts of any civilized land. Surely the intent of any law is to foster kindness and ruth rather than an unfeeling disregard of suffering.

If a court must find motive to uphold a criminal conviction, surely it must take into account the motive of the Golden Rule. This will strengthen justice, not weaken it. And this will help men to that far-off, hoped-for happy state of affairs when laws will not be needed to control men's acts.

Hint to the Bride: Keep Track of Gifts

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—Brides making out guest lists for their weddings would do well to put the names and addresses on recipe file cards. Put a check on the card by the name when an invitation is addressed. I also took these cards to my bridal shower. One of my friends added, at the bottom of the proper card, what the gift was that I had received. When I had written the thank-you note, I put a check in front of the gift listed. I also had the addresses right at hand to address the envelopes. By filing these in alphabetical order they become real time savers. Also good for checking off thank-you notes for wedding gifts and, too, you have your Christmas card list started for the next year.—FRAN

DEAR POLLY—Put a hook in a nice clean board, and when you are washing dress belts put the buckles over the hook. Stretch out until the belt or belts are smooth and put a thumbtack in the other end to hold the belt tight until dry. This works wonderfully and eliminates ironing.—THELMA

HHH Gives Support To Viets

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey chastised critics of the Vietnamese war Thursday and strongly supported the newly installed government in South Vietnam.

"No nation has done so much to help so many others as our nation, and I have little or no time for those that downgrade us," Humphrey said in a 35-minute speech to members of the U.S. community here.

"I don't think you prove yourself to be an intellectual by pointing out all our mistakes. You just prove that you just don't feel right, like in the beginning stages of an ulcer."

Humphrey told the 300 guests assembled in the residence of U.S. Ambassador James Bell: "You do not prove that you are a great patriot by constantly pointing out our shortcomings. You prove only that you are a pessimist."

"The United States is not what it is today because it was managed by fools and because everybody made mistakes. It is what it is today because we did what we thought was best. If we failed, we tried again."

Humphrey said U.S. military personnel continually asked him during his visit to Vietnam: "What's wrong with those folks back home?"

"I told them, be careful, there are people with honest differences of opinion. One of the reasons we're in Vietnam is to fight for freedom of opinion."

Humphrey said he felt criticism of the recent Vietnamese presidential and legislative elections was unfair.

Humphrey brushed aside complaints that President Nguyen Van Thieu was declared elected after receiving only 38 per cent of the vote.

"So when does that become un-American?" he asked. "Eleven of the presidents of the United States never had a majority, including President John Adams, who had had 38 per cent, the same as President Thieu got."

Humphrey stressed that the United States had no plans to pull out of the war despite mounting public protests at home.

"We're there, and we're not going to leave," he declared. "I don't care how many demonstrations you have. The nation is committed. There isn't a responsible U.S. political leader who says we should withdraw. They just argue where we should be at a particular moment."

Four Fast Shots At Candidate

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—A gunman fired four quick shots in a French Quarter motel driveway early today at Rep. John R. Rarick, D-La., a candidate for governor in Saturday's Democratic primary.

Rarick, his wife and an aide took cover and escaped injury.

"The whole thing happened about like the flip of a finger," said Rarick. "At first it sounded like someone threw a cherry bomb. Then I turned around and looked at this car. This fellow was pointing a gun right at me."

"The shots kept coming. I jumped between cars," he added. "I couldn't even tell you how many shots were fired. You don't count when you're looking down a gun barrel."

Witnesses said that four shots were counted. However, only one slug was found by police. The battered projectile apparently ricocheted off the covered driveway wall and landed in front of a fire station directly across the street from the Bienville House where Rarick was staying.

Police began a search for three, possibly four men, in a black compact car from which the shots were fired.

Rarick had been at a television station preparing a statement for use in the final days of the gubernatorial campaign.

An aide, Neal Edwards, said the shooting took place about 1:45 a.m.

"We had just driven into the hotel garage and got out of the car," Edwards said. "We took only a few steps and then this car suddenly appeared at the end of the driveway. I saw three or four dark figures in the car. Suddenly I heard the first shot. I dove to the ground and the congressman and his wife ducked between some cars."

"After they got through shooting the car screamed off," Edwards added.

Edwards was asked if he felt the shooting had anything to do with organized crime, a key campaign issue, and he replied: "It possibly could. We've been hitting it pretty hard."

The congressman, 43, a native of Goshen, Ind., is one of four candidates running against Gov. John McKeithen.

five Marines and 11 of the enemy were killed.

In the air war, North Vietnam declared two U.S. Jets—an A4 Skyhawk and an F4 Phantom—were shot down over Nghe An Province, midway between the border demilitarized zone and Hanoi.

There was no immediate comment from American authorities.

Closing monsoon weather hampered American air strikes Wednesday. U.S. pilots flew 137 missions, but all were confined to the panhandle south of the Hanoi-Haiphong area.

From Nha Trang, 200 miles northeast of Saigon, came word of the fifth Buddhist suicide by fire in the last two months in protest against the government of President Nguyen Van Thieu. The charred body of a nun, 30, was found on the steps of a pagoda near Nha Trang, along with three letters of protest.

The war last week was reported to have cost the allies 446 dead, a marked rise from the 281 killed in the previous reporting period, Oct. 15-21. Spokesmen said 1,389 Communists were killed, against a readjusted figure of 1,556 for the previous week.

The U.S. Command said 166 Americans were killed 966 wounded and 14 missing or captured. A week earlier there had been 193 dead, 949 wounded and seven missing.

U.S. casualties last week raised American combat deaths in the war to 14,266 and the number of wounded to 90,417. A spokesman said that, of the wounded, 42,717 did not require hospitalization.

In all 16,120 Americans have died in Vietnam since 1916—2,854 of them from illness, accidents and other nonhostile causes. There were 32 such deaths last week.

Strike

newly manufactured parts, the spokesman said.

Ford was struck at midnight Sept. 6 when the old three-year contract expired there, and at Chrysler and General Motors. The UAW called its men out of Ford plants, but kept Chrysler and GM workers on the job.

The national contract settlement was reached at Ford last week and signed by company and union officials last Monday. The strike, however, remains technically in effect until local agreements are reached at all Ford plants.

The UAW announced the strike deadline at Chrysler following a series of bargaining sessions between subcommittees Thursday.

The union is striving to win from Chrysler a contract like the one it obtained at Ford. The Ford pact, which included gains equal to $1 an hour in wages and fringe benefits at the end of the third year, is the biggest contract gain in auto industry history, Reuther said.

After contract issues are resolved at Chrysler, the UAW will take its demands to General Motors, which already has been warned by the UAW that local strikes will be authorized if the giant automaker resorts to too much overtime in an effort to stockpile cars that would let it wait out a lengthy strike.

American Motors Corp., fourth largest U.S. automaker, continues discussions on national contract issues with the UAW on Friday.

Rain Has Bearing On Prices

CHICAGO (AP)—Rain over scattered portions of the Midwest, where bumper corn and soybeans crops are being harvested, influenced higher prices for the two commodities Thursday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Reports filtered to the floor that corn harvesting was running 1 to 3 weeks behind schedule in some sections of the Midwest because of the rain.

Corn futures advanced up to one cent a bushel, while soybeans edged up 1½ cents. Because the flow of cash corn had slowed down in Chicago, the price of spot corn advanced to 5 cents above the December price.

After wheat prices had advanced about ½ cent a bushel, they fell back to close almost one cent lower. Commission houses and local professionals were active sellers.

Oats and rye trade was light and prices closed mostly higher.

When grain trading closed, wheat was ½ to ¾ of a cent a bushel lower, December 1.49½-¾; corn was ¼ lower to ½ higher, December 1.14½-¾; oats were unchanged to ¼ higher, December 71¾-¾; rye was ¼ to ½ higher, December 1.19½; and soybeans were ¼ to 1½ higher, November 2.63¾-¾.
